

MANY KILLED AND PROSTRATED

DEATH LIST GROWS

Big Mills Forced to Close and Bricklayers Quit Work

Like the bard's unfortunate sailor, down this noon on account of the heat, the Lowell Machine Shop foundry is closed but the kitchen which has no foundry is still working.

Building Trades Quit

All the building trades in Lowell quit work today on account of the heat. Though some of the men stuck it out until noon, carpenters, plasterers, hod-carriers and bricklayers alike found the heat too strong for them. Two brave bricklayers attempted to stick it out on the Y. M. C. A. building job but quit at noon. At the Auburn job building where Harry Spelman had a large force doing a rush job, Mr. Spelman dismissed his men this morning as he stated that they were too good workers to be killed at this time. A report that one of Contractor Dan Walker's men died on the Merrimack mills job was untrue. Mr. Walker dismissed all the men on his Merrimack mills and brewery jobs at noon.

Foundries All Closed

All the iron foundries in the city are shut down on account of the heat and the moulders in the big shop quit this morning.

Lawrence Hosery Shuts Down

The entire Lawrence hosery was dismissed this noon. The average temperature in some of the rooms during the morning was 112 and several girls fainted during the morning. At noon it was decided to shut down the plant and the men were most welcome to the employees. Comparatively little work was done this morning and the employees were allowed to go to the windows to get what little breeze was stirring without being ordered back to their machines.

Business at a Standstill

Today is the first of the Thursday half holidays during July and August and the employees of the down town stores couldn't get out of them quick enough. Business was practically at a standstill in all the down town stores this morning.

Boat Mills Cool

There was no prostration reported at the Boat Mills today, and the officials of the plant declared this afternoon that the mill was well cooled off excepting one place in the corner of the yard.

Although the plant is not shut down, the overseers of each department were given orders from the office to let anybody who desired to be off this afternoon. Despite these orders, very few asked off for they could keep as cool inside of the plant as they would outside.

Shoe Shop Closed

The heat was so intense at the Federal Shoe shop this morning that the management notified the employees that the plant would suspend business during the afternoon.

Pathetic Scene

One of the pathetic features of the hot wave is to see gathered about every ice wagon that stops to unload some of its precious freight a crowd of children looking with longing eyes upon the great cakes of ice as the driver unloads them, and knocking each other over in an attempt to grab the small pieces that chip off as the cake strikes the ground. Then if the driver disappears from view all who can climb are into the wagon in an instant, eagerly grasping at all the small pieces on the bottom of the cart. A crowd of children down town in the middle of the day is an unusual sight, but shortly after 12 o'clock this noon an ice wagon backed up to the Waverly house in Market street and started to unload. In an instant it was surrounded by about 25 or more children most of whom had been carrying dinner in the Carpent mill and who were returning with their empty dinner pails. As fast as the pieces chipped off the big cakes the children grabbed for them like all possessed and it was a case of the survival of the fittest for the huskiest ones got most of the ice. But to their credit let it be said that those who got their first share shared their lot with their less active friends and unconsciously pre-empted an eloquent little sermon to the others. The thoughtful ones filled their dinner pails and carried home their precious burden.

Horse and Men Prostrated

Since July 4 the Daniel Gage Ice company has lost three horses from heat prostration, while several men have been prostrated and have been removed to their homes. While this morning a driver named George Taylor was overcome in Oak street and was removed to the hospital in the ambulance. Since the hot wave started the Gage Ice company has been loading ice at the ice houses as late as 11 o'clock at night and on Fourth of July morning delivered until 3 in the morning, beating all records in the long history of the company. The demand for ice is unprecedented in the history of the company. Carrying out the life-long policy of her father, Miss Martina Gage has permitted her drivers to put in ice to those who demand it, regardless of their ability to pay, and in an unobtrusive way has done a great deal of good. The scene at the ice houses in Pawtucket street for the past few mornings was interesting to behold and had its pathetic features as well. As early as dawn, long before the mill people started out to their work a steady stream of children with every old kind of a toy wagon and baby carriage passed along Pawtucket street to the ice houses to gather up the broken bits of ice of which there were enough to go around. The kind hearted employees allowed the children to gather the ice and some who didn't have wagons carried away large pipes in their aprons or towed them along the street tied to ropes until they reached their homes.

Milk Famine Threatened

Local milk dealers are in fear of an imminent famine if this heat keeps up as the milk supply is dangerously short while the demand is greater than ever in history. A suburban milk dealer who supplies customers in Lowell said this morning: "I generally get a quart of milk as I need all of that amount. Today I couldn't get more than 32 quarts for love or money."

Hens Dying Off

The many small poultry farms in the vicinity of Lowell are suffering badly from the heat by the present heat and death of hens. Farmers report that unless there is immediate relief, growing vegetables will suffer intensely.

Dr. Meigs Hustling

Dr. Meigs, medical examiner for this district, was the busiest man in town today. He called at the police station this morning for a moment and was greeted as he entered the door with: "There's a body at O'Donnell's and another at Molloy's that they want you to look at."

"And still they come," remarked the doctor as he mopped his brow and returned to his automobile.

Dr. Meigs performed two autopsies at the Lowell hospital this morning. In the case of Louis Boucher, who was hit by an automobile, it was found that he sustained a fracture at the base of the skull. In the case of Omer Cote, the child who was struck by a racket at the West Centralville celebration, it was found that a compound fracture of the skull had been sustained together with a laceration of the brain.

Arthur Harris, an account of whose death appears in another column, was found to have been dead at least 24 hours before his body was discovered. Death was due to the excessive heat. Mr. Harris was an inveterate reader and in his hand was found the well known novel "By Inheritance." Strangely enough, the book was open on a chapter entitled "The White Man's Burden."

Dr. Meigs also performed an autopsy on the body of the infant found in a box on the piazza of the home of Undertaker Archambault. The child was a completely formed baby not over 21 hours old.

More Prostrations

Patrick Leahy of 34 Suffolk street was overcome by the heat about 11 o'clock this morning and removed in the ambulance to St. John's hospital.

Among the other prostrations recorded were as follows:

11:40 o'clock, George Taylor, employed by the D. Gage Ice company, taken from corner of Oak and High streets to his home, 1554 Middlesex street.

12:25 o'clock, Elita Margaret Hitchins, residing at the Wellman house in Bridge street and Lyon Center Street, borne drug store to her home.

12:25 o'clock, a woman taken from Whitall Mfg. Co. to St. John's hospital.

12:25 o'clock, James Mead taken from corner of Merrimack and Tremont streets to St. John's hospital.

Large Death Returns

Forty-six death returns have been registered at the office of the board of health within the last five days. Seventeen of the total number were babies less than a year old and seven were persons over 70 years of age, whose deaths were probably superinduced by the heat.

Chelmsford Street Hospital

There have been seven deaths with-in the last 36 hours at the Chelmsford street hospital and three of them were due to the heat. The old men and women and the babies have suffered a great deal and the city physician has had his hands full since the hot wave struck town.

Ice Bags Provided

The ambulances, thanks to the good judgment and foresight of Dr. Patrick Meegan, have been provided with ice bags, four bags in each ambulance. The total number of calls for the ambulance, yesterday, was eighteen and to-

NEARLY DROWNED

Boy Was Bathing in the Western Canal

Horace Trudel, aged 3 years and living at 9 Grand street, narrowly escaped death this afternoon while bathing in the Western canal. The boy with several companions all about his age were taking a dip in the canal at a place known as the "boom." The little Trudel boy went too far in the water and sank.

Ralph Simmet, aged 13 years, who was with the crowd, dived in to save friend, but his efforts were fruitless. In the meantime the other boys screamed for help and their outcries were heard by Patrick Lague, Jr. who was also bathing a little further up the canal. The latter quickly arrived on the spot and dived in for the boy whom he rescued in no time.

The helpless form of the child was brought to the surface and after considerable treatment on the part of those present, the boy came to again and walked to his home in Grand street.

OPERATIVES ARE IDLE

Mills Unable to Obtain Coal and Supplies

MANCHESTER, Eng., July 6.—The situation growing out of the strike of cutters was further complicated today by the enforced idleness of thousands of cotton operatives. Many mills are unable to obtain coal and other supplies and have been compelled to shut down indefinitely.

Thousands of workers and others out of work were in the streets, the number being added to by several hundred coal miners, who struck this morning in sympathy with the cutters and the dockers.

Some 750 troops and 300 London police arrived this morning. There was an occasional recurring of stone throwing, but the police with their clubs routed the manifestos. The strike leaders declare that roughs and not the strikers are responsible for the rioting that has taken place. In some cases strike pickets co-operated with the police in quelling disturbances.

AN IMMENSE FLEET

Is Anchored in Provincetown Harbor

PROVINCETOWN, July 6.—Twenty-two fighting ships and auxiliaries are anchored today in Provincetown harbor preparatory to engaging in tests in war games in Cape Cod bay. The big fleet includes eight submarines and 12 torpedo boat destroyers. Four other ships are in the harbor and will join the fleet, which will be the biggest ever assembled in any port.

Twenty-two battleships will be of the assembling force, which will include probably 65 naval vessels, practically all heavily armed craft.

For ten days the big force will make its rendezvous here. The four battleships that went to England during the coronation exercises are expected here July 14.

PREPARING FOR CRUISE

Yacht Club Fleet Spent Today in Taking in Final Stores for the Annual Cruise of the Club along the shores of the Gulf of Maine. The fleet will make a 7 o'clock start tomorrow morning, for the first day's run takes the boats into Portland harbor with 65 miles of actual racing.

GET OUT TO PARKS

Life Saving Appeal to People of the Congested Districts

To save the lives of those who are housed in small and ill-ventilated rooms they are hereby appealed to, to get out in the open air and sleep in the parks and the commons until this terrible hot spell is over. Dr. Meigs today said it means sure prostration or death at this time for families to remain in hot ill-ventilated rooms either by day or by night. Resort to the use of stimulants, he said, makes the danger of death from the heat still greater.

Therefore, we appeal to the people in the congested districts to quit the stuffy rooms, the superheated tenements and boarding houses, get out to the shade of commons and avoid intoxicants which only help to raise the temperature of the body and to precipitate the worst results from the heat. Every hour this forenoon brought news of prostrations and deaths from the heat with no sign of relief. Added to this is the danger of a water famine. Hence Supt. Thomas wisely suggests that the fire department draw upon the canals for water to drench the congested districts. Meanwhile cooler temperature is predicted for tonight, but until it arrives let the people get out to the parks so as to avoid the danger of a temperature in which no man, woman or child can live more than a few hours.

THE STEEL MAGNATES

Conclude Business They Met to Transact

BRUSSELS, July 6.—The steel men today concluded the business which had called them together from nine steel producing countries and adjourned. Most of the Americans left for Paris late in the afternoon.

The conference appointed a committee of 30 to work out a plan for an international steel organization. Following their deliberations the delegates were received at the palace by King Albert and later they visited the battlefield of Waterloo.

Judge Gary of the United States Steel Co., feels that distinct progress has been made toward a common world code of feeling and practices in steel affairs.

DROP IN CORN

CHICAGO, July 6.—With rain moistening the parched corn fields of Illinois, Nebraska, Iowa and northern Kansas, the market for that cereal here, dropped an extreme three cents at the opening today. The December option, which closed at 66 cents yesterday, declined to 63 cents today. September dropped from 66 1/2 cents last night to 64 cents.

FIRE ON PAWTUCKET BRIDGE

A still alarm this afternoon called a portion of the fire department on the Pawtucket bridge where a slight blaze was in progress. The fire probably was set by a lighted cigar butt. There was no damage.

HELD FOR GRAND JURY

McCarthy Is Charged With Breaking and Entering

This morning's session of the police court was rather brief and those who had business there were very well pleased for the temperature and humidity were high. The only persons who were disappointed were the gallery gods who daily frequent the "nigger heaven" of the court room.

Many lawyers who had cases to try did not seem to have the ambition to do so today and as a result several cases which in all probability will be long drawn out, were continued.

Held For the Grand Jury

John F. McCarthy, who was arraigned in court yesterday morning on a complaint containing two counts charging him with breaking and entering two rooms in the Barbank building and stealing articles therefrom, was brought into court this morning when an additional complaint, that of breaking and entering the room of Mary Cate in the Barbank building and stealing a dress suit case, was introduced against him. Through his counsel, James E. O'Donnell, pleas of not guilty were entered and examination waived. Judge Dickman found probable cause and held the young man under $700 bonds for the superior court.

Violation of Milk Law

The case of Ralph C. Nickles, charged with having adulterated milk in his possession, was continued until one week from tomorrow.

Drunken Offenders

Morgan Roland, charged with drunkenness, was sentenced to the state farm, but afterwards the sentence was suspended and he was placed in the custody of the probation officer. John J. Spellacy was fined $5 and one first offender was fined $2. There were seven drunks released.

WATER FROM CANALS

Can be Used to Flush Streets and Wet Down Tenement Houses

Supt. Thomas of the water department has offered a valuable suggestion for the watering of the city's streets. Because of the big falling off of the supply of driven well water and our dangerous proximity to a water famine, the water board instructed Mr. Thomas to confer with the mayor and the chief of the fire department and tell them that the practice of wetting down the streets from the hydrants could have to be abandoned. The board believes that it is better to face present conditions than to take chances on a water famine.

The flooding of the streets and the wetting down of tenement houses was a great relief especially in the congested districts and Mr. Thomas suggests that the fire department might continue it and take the water from the canals. In this way, he thinks, most of the congested districts can be cooled.

Mayor Meegan conferred with the officials of the Locks & Canals Co. this noon relative to using canal water on the streets, and as a result the mayor announced this afternoon that the company has granted permission to draw water from the canals.

O'SULLIVAN ELECTED

Deadlock Over Choice of Principal Assessor Broken at Last

Jeremiah J. O'Sullivan, Esq., was elected principal assessor by the board of aldermen at their regular meeting held last night. Mr. O'Sullivan was elected on the first ballot, seven of the nine aldermen voting for him. Two of the aldermen, Messrs. Connors and Flanagan, voted for Dr. James J. McCarthy. The common council elected Mr. O'Sullivan a week ago and now that he has been elected in concurrence he will take office at once. He will take the place of Solomon S. Mayberry who has been a holdover since the first of the year. The new assessor is the son of James O'Sullivan of O'Sullivan Bros. Co.

JEREMIAH SULLIVAN
Principal Assessor

Technology and on the advice of his physician he took a rest for a year and then entered the Boston university law school from which he graduated with high honors. He has been practicing law with an office in Wyman's Exchange. It is understood he will assume the duties of his new office at once.

Dr. Welch Confirmed

Mayor Meehan's appointment of Dr. Edward J. Welch as library trustee to succeed the late Thomas Walsh, was confirmed unanimously.

Last night's meeting of the board was a shirt-sleeve affair and any superfluous hot air would have made matters very uncomfortable. Just for that the meeting was not as elongated as some of its predecessors. There was no attempt at speechmaking and that helped some. Acting City Assessor George Boon was right there on the job every minute and he made conditions as comfortable as the weather clerk would permit.

The meeting was called at a quarter to nine o'clock and that's pretty early for a meeting nowadays.

A hearing on petition of the Boston & Northern street railway for pole locations in Foster street was declared open by the chairman. Supt. Thomas Lee explained the situation and told why the locations were needed.

Frank Stowell was a remonstrator. He was not present but was represented by Alderman Connors. The city of the remonstrators were not explained. The matter was referred to the committee on wires.

There were no remonstrators to the petition of the New England Telephone & Telegraph company for pole locations in Pollard street. Petition was referred.

A hearing on petition of the New England Telephone & Telegraph company for pole locations on Walnut street and in B street was held. The petition was referred to the committee on wires.

Hearing on petition of the Oblate fathers to move a building to the corner of Moody and Spaulding streets was held. Petition granted.

Mr. Barrett moved that a ballot be taken for principal assessor. It was so voted and Jeremiah J. O'Sullivan was declared elected in concurrence, receiving 7 of the 9 votes. Those voting for Mr. O'Sullivan were: Messrs. Barrett, Burns, Daly, Gallagher, Jodoin, Rountree and Toupin. Messrs. Connors and Flanagan voted for Dr. James J. McCarthy.

An order to hold primaries by precincts and for the appointment of a committee on polling places was read. Aldermen Barrett and Flanagan were appointed on the committee.

A joint order to borrow $19,000 for a new bridge over the canal in Market street and the repair of several other bridges was referred to the committee on appropriations.

The opinion of the city solicitor relative to the city's authority to build and rent conduits for underground wires was read. The solicitor said the city did not have the right to do it. The opinion was placed on file.

Several sewer resolutions were adopted as was also a resolution to lay out and accept Burton street.

A resolution to accept a sidewalk on Chelmsford street on the easterly side from Cambridge street was adopted.

The report of the committee on ordinance and legislation relative to an ordinance creating a city council fund was read, the report stating that the ordinance was correctly drawn. The report was accepted.

Exit aldermen.

THE PARLIAMENT BILL

Has Been Amended by the Lords

LONDON, July 6.—The house of lords last night by a vote of 253 to 46 passed Lord Lansdowne's amendment to the veto bill, which provides that no bill affecting the existence of the crown or Protestant succession, or the establishment of a national parliament or a body with legislative powers in any portion of the kingdom, or which, in the judgment of a joint committee of the two houses, raises an issue of great gravity, shall receive royal assent until it has been submitted to the referendum. War Secretary Haldane again made it clear that the government would refuse to accept the amendment.

An interesting feature of the debate was the intervention of the bishop of Ripon, who said that he disliked the referendum, which was advocated by Lord Lansdowne, but preferred it to the veto bill.

TWO LAWRENCE BOYS

Were Drowned in the Merrimack River

LAWRENCE, July 6.—John Roshinsky, aged 9, of 219 Valley street, was drowned in the Merrimack river near McParlin court yesterday afternoon. The bathhouses were crowded, and he with a number of other lads went in bathing outside. He jumped from a bait box and failed to rise. The body was recovered.

Gus Schreiter, aged 17 of 3 Sargent street, while seeking relief from the heat by bathing in the Merrimack near the Essex county training school, last night was drowned. His body has not been recovered.

Announcement Extraordinary

The New York Store takes extreme pleasure and they trust pardonable pride in their ability to herewith make announcement that they have secured and shall exhibit the exact duplicate of

The Coronation Gown

Made by Worth and as worn by Queen Mary on that momentous occasion, the Coronation of the British Sovereigns

Tomorrow and Following Days

The Coronation Gown will be exhibited in our store draped on a model who will appear in addition to wearing this magnificent robe a gorgeous crown and carrying the regulation sceptre. You are cordially invited to visit us and inspect this gorgeous costume devised by that genius, Worth, of Paris.

Probably never in the history of the world has a costume of such surpassing magnificence been devised. Never has a Lowell house been able to place on exhibition a gown of such rare beauty. Intrinsic value ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS.

We are proud of our achievement in securing this great production for Lowell. Permit us to assure the Lowell ladies that it will ever be our aim to exhibit for their benefit the new ideas, the latest efforts of fashion designers that may be brought forth from time to time, as for instance, the Harem Skirt. Now the Coronation Gown.

A WATER FAMINE

Is Threatened in This City, According to Supt. Thomas

At a meeting of the water board held last night Supt. Thomas submitted a rather startling report relative to Lowell's water supply, and he says it is up to the people of Lowell to go easy on the water if they would avoid a water famine. The board instructed Supt. Thomas to confer with the superintendent of streets and chief of the fire department and advise a more careful use of the city's water. The board went so far as to consider the advisability of prohibiting the watering of lawns throughout the city. The Cook wells have been running longer than the state board advises that they should be run at one time, because of the peculiar action of Cook well water on lead pipes, and to shut off these wells would mean a shortage of four and a half million gallons a day. Since the hot weather set in there has been an excess consumption of 2,000,000 gallons a day and the water is falling in the reservoir. The reading of the scale at the reservoir on July 1 was 18 feet 11 inches, and at 5 p. m. yesterday the water stood at 17 feet 1 inch.

SUPT. ROBERT J. THOMAS

President Van Tassel called the meeting to order at 8:20 o'clock. Fred G. Humphries presented a claim amounting to $152 for injuries sustained while working in the boulevard pumping station. The board will pay the claim.

Mr. Joseph W. Griffin, Monadnock avenue, presented a petition to have the water main, which ends at his home, extended through to Pine street in order to get better water. The board later granted the extension, with the provision that Mr. Griffin pay the interest on the cost of said extension.

Mr. Eugene Gosselin of Henry avenue also presented a petition to have the water main extended from the house of Mr. Blanchard Pratt about 200 feet away, to the house which he is now building. The board granted the petition on the condition that Mr. Gosselin pay the interest of the money expended.

THE IVERNIA

TEMPORARILY PATCHED UP SET SAIL TODAY

QUEENSTOWN, July 6.—The Cunarder Ivernia, temporarily patched up, sailed this morning for Liverpool under her own steam but escorted by five tugs and salvage steamers. The Ivernia has been laid up since she struck near Daunt rock during a fog on May 24. She was coming in here from Boston at the time. Permanent repairs will be made at Liverpool.

MAN WAS DRUGGED

Says He Was Robbed of $300

EXETER, N. H., July 6.—A stranger found Monday morning on River street believed then to be a victim of heat prostration, was yesterday discharged from the Cottage hospital and went to his home in Roxbury, Mass. He gave his name as Lewis Smith of 147 Humboldt avenue, Roxbury, and said he has been employed as a wood chopper at Houlton, Me.

He says he drew Saturday $264, wages for about nine months, and with Michael Ellis, his wife's cousin, started for his home.

On arrival in Exeter Ellis persuaded him to stop over that the latter might visit a friend. On the way from the station, he says, Ellis urged him to take a drink and he finally consented on assurance that it was merely wine. After the drink he says he knew nothing until he awoke at the hospital. He says the wine was drugged.

His money had vanished and he could not find Ellis to explain the matter. The latter's address, Smith says, is unknown to him. Supt. Charles G. Gooch believed Smith's story to be true and gave him a ticket to Boston.

HE DROPPED DEAD

Undertaker Was Preparing Body for Burial

HUDSON, July 6.—Undertaker Jay Henry Herlick, 62 years old, dropped dead yesterday while laying out the body of Mrs. Eliza Barton Wheeler at the farm of Mrs. Abbie A. Tenney, Brigham street. He was called there about 10 o'clock and was at work assisted by Mrs. Benjamin Noyes, when he fell to the floor with a gasp, expiring immediately.

Dr. Frederick P. Glazier was summoned, and after examining the body and finding life extinct, went to the Herlick home, and notified Mrs. Herlick. Dr. John E. McGrath viewed the body and pronounced death due to indigestion, producing syncope.

GENERAL BIXBY

DESCRIBES CONDITION OF THE MAINE

WASHINGTON, July 6.—General Bixby, who declared in an interview here last night that the Maine was wrecked in Havana harbor by the explosion of her own magazines, is quoted as saying that his soundings showed that at least two-thirds of the bow was utterly wrecked. The sides had been practically blown away and were buried in the mud. This, he believed, indicated conclusively that the wreck was from internal sources.

AGENT WM. MITCHELL

Closes Massachusetts Mills for Remainder of Week

Because he believes it inhuman to ask mill operatives to work in such death dealing weather, Agent William A. Mitchell of the Massachusetts mills closed the plant at 3 o'clock this afternoon and it will remain closed during the rest of the week.

There were quite a number of heat prostrations in the mills today, and in existing conditions. We had prostration cases here today but none of them were serious. I will close the mills at three o'clock this afternoon and they will remain closed until next Monday morning.

SUBWAY BLOCKADE

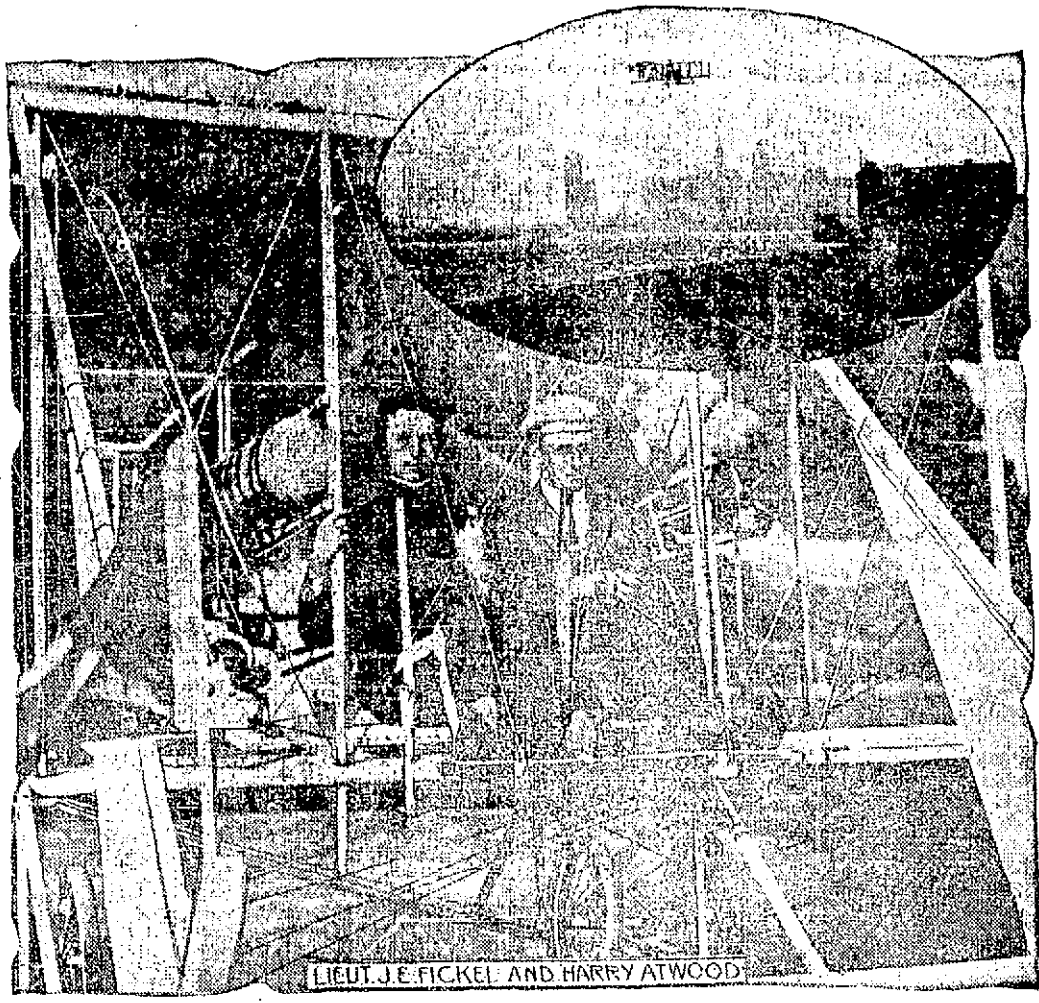

Passengers in Stalled Train Were in Serious Condition

NEW YORK, July 6.—A blockade in the subway today capped the misery of the hot wave. When the stalled train finally crept into the underground stations fainting passengers were helped out by the score. Many had to be carried to drug stores and some taken to hospitals. While the blockade lasted the list of prostrations grew faster than any previous time since PARIS, July 6.—The situation regarding the affairs in Morocco is becoming very acute. France, Germany and Spain each makes strong demands to be allotted large sections of territory. Great Britain also has taken a hand in the international embroglio. The French troops are now in control in a large portion of Morocco. The belief here is that Germany's design is to hasten the negotiations decided upon in Berlin by the French ambassador and the imperial chancellor. The negotiations are to be conducted at Kissingen, and the aim is to settle definitely the Moroccan question and also to readjust the Congo and Kamerun boundaries.

KIEL, July 6.—The Kaiser's delay in starting on his Norwegian trip is popularly attributed to the Moroccan complications, although the official explanation is that it is due to reports of bad weather in Norwegian waters. The photos herewith show scenes in two of the leading Moroccan cities whose fate as to future government is now hanging in the balance.

HARRY ATWOOD, THE LATEST AERIAL DAREDEVIL, COURTS DEATH IN AEROPLANE "STUNTS"

ATLANTIC CITY, July 6.—Harry Atwood, the latest aviation phenomenon, who stopped here during his Boston to Washington flight in an aeroplane, has made a reputation for daring that will live long in the annals of the air. Atwood, who carried an army officer, Lieutenant Fickel, with him during part of his flight, seems intently without fear. He was the first man to make the dangerous flight over the lofty skyscrapers of New York city. One of his favorite exploits is to depress his elevating gear and plunge straight toward the earth. When about 100 feet from the ground, however, when spectators stand aghast, he smilingly brings his machine to its proper position and speeds on his way. Aviation experts say that if Atwood continues his present tactics he will be lucky if he lives a month longer. Atwood, who is a Wright pupil took his first aeroplane ride about five weeks ago.

201 DIED IN CHICAGO

273 Other Persons Prostrated During the Hot Wave

CHICAGO, July 6.—Two hundred and one deaths and two hundred and seventy-three prostrations were the toll exacted by Chicago's record-breaking hot wave, which lasted for five days. One hundred and twenty-five infants who died from the heat are included in the list of dead.

The hot wave was broken shortly after one o'clock this morning by rain, which brought with it a cool breeze and a drop in temperature of six degrees. Later the mercury gradually dropped, until at nine o'clock the temperature was 78, compared with 93 for the same hour yesterday. The official weather forecaster predicted cooler, unsettled weather today with thunder storms for tonight. The forecast for Friday is clear and cool.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

At the meeting of Loyal Excelsior Lodge, I. O. O. F. M. U., held in Post 120, G. A. R. hall in Merrimack street, the following officers were installed.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The French carpenters installed their officers at a well attended meeting of local union 1416 Wednesday evening. Great interest was manifested by the members in coming to the hall on such a hot night.

Light refreshments were served as a token of respect to the newly elected officers who are as follows:

P. S. St. Martin, president; Philip Roy, vice president; Joseph Pion, financial secretary; Rozellier Leclair, treasurer; Philip Chaput, recording secretary.

Mr. St. Martin is a new man in the local union and he has manifested great interest in labor matters since he came here from Holyoke about a year ago, being well posted on labor matters it is easy to see why he was selected to the head of the local.

Joseph Pion is another man who is rewarded for his faithful services by being elected to the office of financial secretary for the 18th time.

Mr. Pion has proved himself a valuable man at all times.

Rozellier Leclair is another man whose faithful services are justly rewarded by being elected to the office for the 10th time. The local is in a good financial condition and the members are well pleased with the outlook for the coming six months. They also voted to retain M. A. Lee as business agent.

CITY ENGINEER

SAYS BATHING IN PORTION OF MERRIMACK SHOULD STOP

City Engineer Stephen Kearney has addressed the following letter to the board of health:

Lowell, Mass., July 5, 1911.

Mr. Fred A. Bates, Agent Board of Health, Lowell, Mass.

Dear Sir: At a meeting of the committee on sewers, held Wednesday, July 5, the condition of the Merrimack river between Pawtucket Falls and Hunt's Falls was discussed. Between these points a number of sewer outlets empty into the river, and for this reason, in the opinion of the committee, bathing and fishing within these limits should be prohibited.

With this idea in mind, the committee on sewers voted to recommend to the board of health that the proper authorities be notified, so that some action may be taken in the matter.

PARR ON THE TRAIL

He is After the Wealthy Smugglers

NEW YORK, July 6.—The interesting developments in the Jenkins smuggling case are due, it has become known here, to the work of Richard Parr, the government employee who exposed the duplicity of the sugar trust in defrauding Uncle Sam. Mrs. Helen Jenkins is believed to be the central figure in a conspiracy aiming to defraud the government of millions of dollars in customs charges. Parr, having already implicated one millionaire in the smuggling case, is working to demonstrate that several well known men of great wealth have been associated with Mrs. Jenkins in alleged smuggling operations. Parr received a reward of $100,000 from the government for his work in the sugar trust expose.

HARBOR TUNNEL

BOSTON, July 6.—The legislative committee on railroads and metropolitan affairs, to which was recommended the bill providing for a harbor tunnel to connect the New Haven and Boston & Maine lines in this city today unanimously voted for reference to the next general court.

CONDITIONS UNBEARABLE

WHITINSVILLE, July 6.—Heat conditions having become unbearable, the plant of the Whitins machine shops here was shut down today until Monday. More than 2,500 men are employed in the shops. In the foundry yesterday and today the mercury rose to 102 degrees and five prostrations resulted. On the streets today the temperature varied from 103 to 106 in the shade.

SALE REPORTED

ANOTHER PURCHASER FOR HAM-ILTON WALL PROPERTY

A report today has it that the Hamilton wall property in Central street has been sold to an out-of-town person, whose identity remains in the dark for business reasons.

A slaying is now being erected preparatory to the work of removing the big chimney on the property, and it is understood that a large business block facing on Central street will be built at once, the lower floor to be occupied by stores and the other floors principally by offices.

WRIGHT IS OVERCOME

The Heat Was Too Much For Panama Player

"Red" Rorty, who many critics claim is the best minor league umpire in the business, made his first appearance of the season at Spaulding park yesterday and acted as decision-maker in the game between Lowell and New Bedford. Rorty umpired a few games last season, but owing to poor health he quit the business before the season was over, but the position was held open for him this year.

The hot weather got in its work on the attendance, which was the smallest of the season, while as a general rule New Bedford is an excellent drawing card in Lowell.

A new player appeared in a Lowell uniform yesterday in the person of Pitcher Busiek who pitched for Lynn last year and who was considered a big league hummer. He has been playing with Providence this season but has been purchased from that club by Manager Gray.

First Inning

The visitors scored three runs in the first inning but the home team was unable to send a man across the plate. Bauman opened with a fly to Phil Moulton, who caught it. Wright followed with a base on balls. McCrone hit to Wright who threw to second getting Bauman. Rising walked to first after getting hit by a pitched ball. Ness sent the ball over Barrow's head for three bases scoring McCrone and Rising. Ness a minute later scored on a passed ball. Merrill was retired on strikes.

In the latter half of the inning Moulton sent the ball to the left field fence for two bases, but Barrows flew to Merrill. Cooney hit to Bauman and Moulton went to third but Magge popped a fly to Merrill and was third out.

Second Inning

Another run for the Whalers in the second inning. Maranville hit to Boutles, who made a pretty snap and perfect throw to first but Wright dropped the ball. Wheeler singled but was thrown out at second when McDonald hit to Boutles. Maranville went to third on the play and scored on a sacrifice fly to right field by Bauman. McDonald went to second on a wild pitch, but Sweatt hit to Yount and died at first.

Third Inning

Pruitt struck out, Rising hit to Moulton and died at first while Ness hit to Boutles and failed to reach first.

At the close of Lowell's first base man who comes from Panama, was prostrated by the heat and was unconscious for a long time. He was attended by Dr. Collins.

The home team scored five runs in the latter half of the inning. Lavigne opened with a single to left and Yount followed with a fly to Pruitt. Moulton singled sending Lavigne to second. Barrows hit to McDonald and was out at first. Cooney sent the ball out to the left center field scoring Lavigne and Moulton. In running Cooney thought the ball was caught and stopped running and when he learned that it had not been caught he was able to make but two bases on what should have been good for three bases. Magge singled to left sending Cooney. Fluharty singled to left sending Magge to third. Huston who went in to see to Wright hit to the center field fence for three bases scoring Magge and Fluharty. Boutles fled to Rising, closing the inning.

Fourth Inning

In the fourth inning Merrill fled to Barrows. Maranville singled to left and Wheeler struck out. McDonald was third out on a fly to Boutles.

In the latter half of the inning Lavigne and Yount struck out and Moulton hit to Bauman and was retired at first.

Fifth Inning

Bauman opened the fifth with a single and stole second. Sweatt fled to Cooney and Pruitt followed with a base on balls. Rising hit to Moulton who tagged Pruitt on the run and threw to first for a double play.

Lowell scored three runs in the latter half of the fifth inning. Barrows singled to left and Cooney fled to left. Magge singled to left, sending Barrows to third and Fluharty then followed with a fly to Pruitt. Huston hit to deep center field for his second three-bagger, scoring Barrows and Magge. Boutles hit to left field for a single, scoring Huston. Lavigne drew a base on balls but Yount struck out.

Sixth Inning

Ness hit to Boutles and died at first while Maranville hit to Cooney and failed to reach first. Maranville singled, but when Wheeler sent a grounder to Cooney Maranville was doubled up and thrown out.

In Lowell's half Moulton singled to left field but was thrown out while trying to steal second. Barrows fled to Sweatt. Cooney singled but Magge fled to Maranville.

Seventh Inning

McDonald hit to Cooney and was out at first. Bauman sent the ball over the left field fence for a home run. Sweatt got hit by a pitched ball and Pruitt drew a base on balls, but Rising hit to Cooney, who threw to Moulton, getting Pruitt, and the ball was then sent to first for a double play.

Fluharty reached first on Maranville's bad throw and went to second on a passed ball. Huston then fled to Wheeler. Boutles hit to Maranville, who threw to second, getting Fluharty and the ball was sent to first for a double.

Eighth Inning

Ness fled out to Barrows and Merrill got a single. Maranville sent a ridd hot one which Yount knocked down but he could not handle it and the runner was safe at first.

Griffith went in to bat for Wheeler and he hit to Moulton, who threw to second, getting Maranville. Cooney threw to first to get Griffith, but threw too late and Griffith was safe. Merrill then started for home, but was nailed at the plate. Lavigne hit to Bauman and was out at first. Yount struck out and Moulton sent a grounder to Bauman and was out at first.

Ninth Inning

McDonald singled. Bauman fled out to Boutles. Sweatt singled and Barrows let the ball go through him and McDonald scored. Pruitt singled. Rising went out on a hit to Huston. Ness hit to Yount and was out at first.

Diamond Notes

Y. M. C. I. vs. Bloomer Girls at Spaulding park Friday.

Nobody would have kicked if yesterday's and today's games were postponed.

Paddy Bauman looked worth the money in yesterday's game.

Maranville is a fast worker.

"Pike" Wright collapsed on the players' bench in the 3d inning and was unconscious for 15 minutes. Dr. Collins, the club physician, brought him around. He was quite weak last night and will not play for a few days. Wright came here from Panama, a hot country, but it is the humidity of New England that gets them all.

Harry Huston was right there with two fine three baggers.

Lawrence showed good judgment in postponing yesterday's game. Several of the Worcester players came over to see the Lowell game.

Red Rorty made his first appearance, and umpired a faultless game. Red has the goods as an umpire.

An unusual double play occurred in the ninth that fooled Cooney and a majority of the fans. With Pruitt on first Rising put a grounder to Huston who touched first putting out the runner and then threw to second. Cooney got the ball before Pruitt reached second but didn't tag him, and there was a holder when Pruitt was called safe. But Rorty was right because the moment Rising was put out Pruitt consented to be forced to second and might have returned to first and hence it was necessary to tag him to put him out.

"Put those fellows out of left field," cried Tom Dowd to Rorty.

"Yes, sure, I'll police the ground, I guess," replied Red.

FOR PURSE OF $50

LINCOLNS AND SOUTH ENDS WILL MEET AT SPAULDING PARK

On next Saturday afternoon at Spaulding Park the Lincolns and South Ends will meet in a blood game for a purse of $50. The rivalry between these two teams is intense and each will present its strongest line up. The battery for the South Ends will be McGreevey and Devlin. Andy Goggin the promising young southpaw, who has pitched with such splendid success this season will be on the firing line for the Lincolns and Edwards will catch. A large delegation of rooters will accompany each team.

BLOOMER GIRLS

AND Y. M. C. I.'s AT SPAULDING PARK TOMORROW

On Friday afternoon of this week the baseball fans of this city, as well as the women and children will be given a treat at Spaulding park, and an opportunity to see for the first time on these grounds the champion girl baseball team of the world, when the Chicago Bloomer Girls, with Miss Maud Nelson, the champion girl pitcher, meet the Y. M. C. I. ball team which has proved without a doubt to be the strongest independent team in this city.

This team of female ball players have played many of the fastest league and independent teams all over the country, and put up a very fast game. Preparations are being made for a big day at the park on Friday, and a large crowd will undoubtedly be on hand.

Game will be called at 3 p. m. Lineup and batting orders:

FALL RIVER FORFEITS

"Little Jawn" Gets All Heated Up

BROCKTON, July 6.—After Haught of Fall River had disputed a decision of Umpire Evans and Manager John O'Brien of the visiting team had attempted to assault the umpire, that official forfeited the game to Brockton 4 to 0, yesterday. The game was forfeited in the opening half of the fourth inning, and at that time the score was Brockton 5, Fall River 0. While Haught was at the bat in the fourth, Haught disputed the umpire's decision saying that a ball should be called a strike. Umpire Evans ordered Haught from the field and when he refused to go called upon a peace officer to escort the catcher from the grounds. At this point Manager O'Brien rushed onto the field and in the altercation that ensued struck at the umpire. The blow fell short. Umpire Evans then gave the game to Brockton. The Fall River

ATHLETICS' GREAT SECOND SACKER, WHO WAS INJURED

PHILADELPHIA, July 6.—Eddie Collins, second baseman of the world's champion Athletics, whose left arm was dislocated in the game at Washington recently, expects to rejoin the Mack team at Detroit July 11 and take part in the series with the Tigers, which may have an important bearing upon the winner of the American league pennant for 1911. It was at first reported that Eddie would be a cripple for a month at least. It must be team made a rush for Evans, but spectators rushed onto the field and with the police accompanied Evans to the club house.

admitted that Collins' absence from the Athletics' lineup for a month at this particular time might give Detroit the pennant. Connie Mack has capable substitutes, but Collins is such an intelligent and able worker, both offensively and defensively, that a substitute who was equally as strong mechanically would not be able to fill the gap. HELD SMOKE TALK

NEW OFFICERS OF CENTRAL-VILLE SOCIAL CLUB INSTALLED

The regular meeting of the Central-Ville Social club was held last night in the club's quarters in Lakeview avenue. The main feature of the meeting was the installation of the recently elected officers. The installing officer was Mr. Olivier Cordeau and he was assisted by Messrs. L. O. Deuregard and Ernest Mercer.

BABY'S CHEEKS WERE SORE

Very often a stubborn eruption will break out on a baby's face and the mother is at her wit's end to know how to cure it. Mrs. C. S. Hoffman, of Milot, N. D., says, "Since our baby's birth she has had a bad breaking out on her cheeks, but after using Comfort Powder it is entirely healed." Every baby ought to have Comfort Powder so that it would be free from chafing, irritations and rashes. Comfort Powder soothes and heals the skin and keeps it firm and well. The genuine bears E. S. Sykes' name.

COMMITTEE ON SEWERS

The committee on sewers met last night, but did not transact any regular business.

TWO REPORTS OF THE COMMITTEE WERE read and signed by those present to be brought before the board of aldermen at the next meeting.

HITTING THE BULL

Animal Has Been Hit 78 Times

There are 136 of the famous "Bull Durham" out-out signs in the principal baseball parks throughout the country. To date these signs have been hit 78 times, making a total of $3900, which has been distributed to the lucky players.

In these parks there have been 1296 home runs made, which have netted the heavy hitters the enormous amount of $637 pounds of Bull Durham tobacco.

New England League Report

Brockton, Mass.—The Bull sign has not been hit. There have been three home runs made, making a total of 134 pounds of Bull Durham tobacco.

Fall River, Mass.—The Bull sign was hit on June 10th by Tommy Devine (Fall River), June 23rd by Howard Weaver (Worcester). There have been 13 home runs made, making a total of 634 pounds of Bull Durham tobacco.

Haverhill, Mass.—The Bull sign was hit on May 30th by Ed. McGamwell (Haverhill). There have been 11 home runs made, making a total of 492 pounds of Bull Durham tobacco.

Lawrence, Mass.—The Bull sign was hit on April 29th by Maurice Kennedy (Lawrence), May 19th by Joe Briggs (Lawrence). There have been 23 home runs made, making a total of 1394 pounds of Bull Durham tobacco.

BOARD OF CHARITY

Receives Offer of Contagious Hospital Site

The board of charities met last night and approved monthly bills. Reports of ambulance surgeons were submitted and accepted.

The request of the city council asking that the dispensary be kept open Saturday afternoons and one hour on Sundays and holidays was discussed. The board allowed that inasmuch as any district physician who is called on a case on a Saturday afternoon, Sunday or holiday, can send to any drug store for anything that is needed at the expense of the board, it would not be necessary to keep the dispensary open as requested and the city council's request was placed on file.

A letter was received from Mrs. O. F. Paul of Tyngsboro, who offered to sell her farm in that town for a contagious hospital site. The letter was placed on file.

Commissioner Ricard said that in St. Joseph's parish it was proposed to establish what is known as a Credit Union. He said it would be a great help to the poor people, as money under this system, could be loaned at a very small rate of interest and without security. The board allowed that it would be a good thing.

Land For Militia

The committee on military affairs met last night and voted to recommend that the Livingston land be hired for the militia.

Estimates for the repair of the Dracut rifle range were read by Inspector James Dow. The matter was laid over to the next meeting.

The matter of hiring land for the local militia companies to maneuver on was discussed. Mr. Gallagher moved that the committee recommend the hiring of the Livingston land for five months at $5 a month. It was so voted.

Committee on Sewers

The committee on sewers met last night, but did not transact any regular business.

BODY OF BABY GIRL A MYSTERIOUS CASE

Found On Steps of An Undertaker's House Death of Manchester Child to be Investigated

A baby girl, aged about two or three days, was found this morning wrapped up in a pasteboard box on the steps of Undertaker Amedee Archambault's house. The identity of the child is not known and may never be known.

At 6.30 o'clock this morning Mrs. Archambault went on the piazza to get her milk and there found a box bearing the name of a local florist. Thinking they were flowers, the woman took the box in the house and opened it, and there to her astonishment discovered that it contained the dead body of a pretty little baby girl, well wrapped in cotton.

The box must have been laid on the piazza sometime during the night, for the Archambault family retired after midnight, and when Mr. Archambault arose at 4 o'clock this morning the box was on the steps on the Decatur street side.

The police were notified of the discovery and will make an investigation. The body was viewed by Dr. Meigs this morning and he later held an autopsy.

MANCHESTER, N. H., July 6.—Dr. George M. Davis, medical referee, was called upon yesterday to investigate mysterious circumstances attending the case of the death of a baby girl yesterday morning at the boarding house of Mrs. Ephrem Gagne, 102 McGregor street.

For more than two months the girl had been cared for in the Gagne home as an "abandoned infant," despite the claim that the child was not abandoned. The case is one of the most mysterious which has come before the county authorities for years.

One day late in April a young woman called at the boarding house of Mrs. Gagne and asked for board for a baby she carried in her arms. This woman was about 25 years old, pretty and neatly dressed. She was of medium build and had dark hair. She appeared to be a woman of tender training.

Mrs. Gagne keeps a boarding house and her time is so taken up with the duties due her of regular boarders that she felt she had no time to devote to a baby. She referred her visitor to a Mrs. Roy, who lived nearby, and the visitor said she would see Mrs. Roy. Meanwhile, she asked that the baby might rest at the house while she found a place for its regular board elsewhere.

Mrs. Gagne consented and fixed an easy couch with sofa pillows, upon which the little girl soon fell asleep. The mother went out saying she would return in 15 minutes, but she never came back. The baby girl was taken in charge by Mrs. Gagne, and she thus considered her until two weeks later a letter came without a signature, declaring that the baby was not abandoned, but that the mother would call and pay for its board. She said the baby's name was "Marie Ange Alma," but that she would not give the family name for fear of the father discovering the whereabouts of the child.

When she left the baby she left a bundle of clothing of fine quality. After thinking the baby abandoned, Mrs. Gagne insured the child for a small sum, paying five cents per week, and they will receive about $12.50 towards its burial. The cause of the child's death is reported by Dr. Davis as due to natural causes.

THE SILVER WEDDING

Of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Choquette Observed

Mr. and Mrs. Elzear H. Choquette, formerly of this city and now of New Bedford observed the 25th anniversary of their marriage on July 4, the event being attended by many friends and relatives of the couple, as well as by their ten children. The affair was also a double event for their oldest son, Leon of Bismark, North Dakota, who was recently married at the latter place, was present with his wife, the couple being on their wedding tour. The latter will come to Lowell the latter part of the week, to visit their many relatives.

The festivities opened with a high mass in the French Catholic church of New Bedford, the officiating clergyman being a brother of Mr. Choquette, the Rev. Victor Choquette of Brockton. There was beautiful singing during the mass by the regular church choir and after the service, the party repaired to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Choquette, 102 Mt. Pleasant street, where a dainty dinner was served. The entire day as well as the evening was spent in a cheerful manner, and the hosts of the occasion were the recipients of many costly gifts.

Elzear H. Choquette and Annie Richards were married in this city July 4, 1886, the ceremony being performed at St. Joseph's church by the Rev. Fr. Pelletier, O. M. F., now of Plattsburg, N. Y. Ten children, three boys and seven girls were born to them, the oldest one, Leon, being superintendent of a land company at Bismark, N. D., while the second oldest, Ferdinand, is interested in his father's business at New Bedford.

Mr. Choquette who is favorably known in this city, was formerly proprietor of the Lowell One Price Clothing Co., now Macartney's Apparel Shop and also a charity commissioner. Two years ago the family removed to New Bedford, where Mr. Choquette opened up a clothing store known as "Choquette's Apparel Shop."

Among the many guests present at the silver wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Auguste Richards of this city, the former a brother of Mrs. Choquette.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 6.—Advises received by Seattle banks from their correspondents at Fairbanks, Alaska, say that the season's gold output of the Tanana district will be at least $5,000,000 and may reach $6,000,000, exceeding by $1,000,000 the estimates made two months ago.

WOUNDED IN LEG

YOUNG MAN STEPPED BEFORE HIS FRIEND'S REVOLVER

NASHUA, July 6.—Nahum King, a young resident of Lynn, who is passing his vacation at Mrs. Jane Duxton's in Londonderry, was brought to St. Joseph's hospital yesterday morning with the bones of his right leg below the knee splintered by a bullet.

Vernon Brown, another boarder and King were taking turns practicing with a revolver and Brown had fired two or three shots at a mark, when King, thinking his companion had finished, stepped directly in front of him just as he pulled the trigger.

Brown dropped the muzzle of the weapon, but not low enough. Dr. William E. Reed says the injury is a serious one.

CAPTURE OF RIOTERS

Car Operating Under Police Protection Was Attacked

MEXICO CITY, July 6.—A suburban car operating under police protection was stopped at San Juan market late last night by several hundred men and boys. The half dozen policemen on the car platforms were powerless. For a time the crowd contented itself with shouting and taunting the police. Then a stone crashed through one of the windows. It was followed by a bombardment. The rioters had chosen a spot within a few squares of a mounted police barracks. A squad of police soon rode into the mob. Not a shot was fired but the riders placed their swords with telling effect. One striker was struck down and trampled to death under the horses. A woman was caught in the rush and fatally trampled. The rioters fled up side streets and escaped. The police turned their attention to escorting the cars to the barracks. The mob gathered again and stormed the barracks when only a few police were left. They penetrated the building and assaulted the men in their quarters with stones and clubs. A force of infantry hurried to the relief of the guards. The soldiers surrounded the barracks and captured more than 50 of the rioters.

Anty Drudge Explains Why the Waist Went into Holes.

Mrs. Don't two—"I must have been cheated in that woolen waist. It pulled right into holes in the washtub."

Anty Drudge—"You wouldn't think you were cheated if you got a leg of mutton which boiled that tender. It was the boiling that weakened your waist just as it makes meat or vegetables tender. Stop boiling your clothes. Wash them with Fels-Naptha in cool or lukewarm water, and they'll wear twice as long."

What are clothes made of?

Wool, cotton or linen, animal or vegetable fibre.

What does boiling or scalding do to them?

Makes them tender just as it does meat or vegetables.

What does hard rubbing on a washboard do to them?

Wears them into holes before their time.

Are you abusing your clothes like that in the weekly wash?

Burning up fuel and working like a slave to do it?

There's a far better way to get clean clothes.

Let Fels-Naptha soap take the dirt out of them in cool or lukewarm water without boiling, without hard rubbing.

It saves the clothes—makes them last twice as long.

In summer or winter, it saves fuel, time, hard work, bother and discomfort.

Directions for the Fels-Naptha way of washing are printed on the back of the red and green wrapper.

Follow them carefully.

"Coming Back" with a Vengeance
He's a little fellow but—how he does come back. We may spray him, burn him, kill him by the million, but he comes back just the same. He's there with the same stinging punch every season. Yes we refer to the Brown-tail and it's lucky there aren't a few more of him or there wouldn't be any of us. We can't avoid or dodge him. We just have to stand him as best we can. About the best way most people find is to keep a bottle of Toileting Cream at hand and use it constantly to relieve the itch. It will do it and often prevents intense suffering that might otherwise go on for weeks. Toileting can be bought at almost any drug store. It is often taken as an internal remedy for colds, coughs and throat trouble.

STRIKERS ROUTED

Hot Fighting Between
Rioters and Police

AMSTERDAM, July 6.—There was hot fighting in the harbor district here between rioters on the one hand and the police on the other in the early hours of today. The strikers stoned the police and the troops replied with their rifles.

The striking shipping men then produced revolvers and in the fusillade that followed a number of persons were wounded. During the fighting the street lights were extinguished.

The troops ultimately routed the strikers and later paraded the streets in strong detachments.

HEAVY LOSS OF LIFE

Fishing Boats and Other
Craft Wrecked

VICTORIA, B. C., July 6.—In a heavy typhoon the steamer Sado Maru, which arrived yesterday from Japan, saved six men from an overturned junk at the entrance of Yokkachi harbor on June 19.

Heavy loss of life occurred in the storm, many fishing boats being overturned and other craft wrecked. On shore many buildings collapsed and floods occurred in some districts with loss of life. In Yokkachi harbor 25 lives were lost.

CONSUL'S REPORT

ON THE KILLING OF AMERICANS
BY MEXICANS

SAN DIEGO, Cal., July 6.—The steamer from Ensenada today brought the preliminary report of Consul Frederick Stimpach in reference to the killing of Americans at Alamo by Mexicans. The report is a voluminous one and has been forwarded to the state department at Washington. Its contents are unknown. In addition to the four white men reported killed there were several Americans at Alamo at the time of the killing. They are thought to have made their escape. Of the four men killed one was a Canadian and another a Frenchman.

THE BIG SALE

Closed Thursdays at 12.30

OUT go all our Spring and Summer Shoes for Men, Women and Children at a Great Sacrifice. The reason for the big cut in prices is a logical and sensible one. We are only prudent in pushing out our present lines of Shoes before the Fall and Winter Shoes put in their appearance. To carry stock over means not only to hamper the new styles, but it means also, much dormant capital and loss from change of fashion. Hence our willingness to pocket any loss to effect a speedy and absolute clearance. Note the Clearance Sale prices and take advantage of this opportunity.

NOW'S WHEN THE SHREWD BUYER BUYS SHOES!

FUNERALS

GAME—The funeral of James U. Game took place from his residence, 142 Riverside street, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Services were conducted by Rev. B. A. Willmott. The bearers were Messrs. C. F. Varunin, C. W. Morey, Arthur Conant and Albert Burnham. Burial was in the family lot in the Lowell cemetery. J. B. Currier Co. in charge.

CLARK—Funeral services for the late John Henry Clark, who died on Friday, June 30th, were held at his home in New Boston, N. H., Sunday afternoon, July 2.

Rev. Louis W. Swanson, pastor of the Presbyterian church and Rev. Olin Clark, a former pastor, officiated; each paying a tender tribute of love and respect to him who had been to them a valued friend and counselor.

Music was furnished by a quintet of young men with whom Mr. Clark had been closely associated. A favorite song, "After" was featured. Mr. Clark was a relative and friend of the family, presided at the organ, playing Mr. Clark's favorite hymns in a most tender and loving manner.

The crowded rooms and beautiful flowers testified to the universal esteem in which Mr. Clark was held. On Monday afternoon when his body was laid to rest in Riverside cemetery, North Chelmsford, a large number of friends from Boston, Lowell and his hometown, gathered to pay their last tribute of respect to one of their townsmen.

The bearers were Messrs. J. L. and W. W. McLane, Allen P. Wilson of New Boston and Mr. Joseph M. Robinson of Andover, Mass.

SALMON—The funeral of Mrs. Mary E. Salmon took place Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the home of her son, Mr. Arthur E. Salmon, 237 Stevens street. The services were conducted by the Rev. Charles T. Billings, pastor of the First Unitarian church, assisted by the Rev. Ransom A. Greene, D. D. of East Somerville, Mass. Appropriate selections were sung by Mrs. A. E. Duncan and Mrs. H. R. Hanson. The bearers were Frank K. Stearns, Royal W. Gates, Edward J. Noyes and Orrin F. Osgood. Burial was in the family lot in the Lowell cemetery. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Mr. Walter Coburn under the direction of Undertaker G. W. Healey.

O'BRIEN—The funeral of Charles E. O'Brien, beloved son of Jeremiah and Bridget O'Brien, took place yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the home of his parents, Pollard street, North Billerica and was largely attended. Services were held at the house, the Rev. Fr. Corneli of St. Andrew's church, North Billerica officiating. Among the floral tributes was a large pillow inscribed "Our Baby" from the family. The burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery in charge of Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

MOLLOY—The funeral of James Molloy took place yesterday afternoon from the home of his parents James and Catherine Molloy, 1 rear of 15 Albion street. Burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery. Undertaker P. H. Savage had charge.

DUFFY—The funeral of the late Nicholas J. Duffy took place yesterday afternoon from the funeral parlors of C. H. Molloy & Sons and was largely attended. There was a delegation present from the Highland Veritas lodge, F. & A. M. O. P., consisting of Messrs. C. A. Antin, E. E. Vanborn, P. H. Colburn and T. M. Perkins. Services were conducted at the funeral parlors and at the grave by Highland lodge. Among the flowers were the following: Large wreath from Dr. Duffee, son of deceased; spray with inscription on ribbon, from Mrs. Katherine Martin, daughter; sheaf of wheat from Miss Duffee; standing cross on base from the Leather Workers' union. The burial was in the Edson cemetery.

MCPARTLAND—The funeral of the late Patrick McPartland took place this morning at 9:30 o'clock from his home 9 Brooks street and was very largely attended. The cortege proceeded to St. Patrick's church where at 10 o'clock a mass of requiem was sung by the Rev. John McHugh, the choir under the direction of Mr. Michael J. Johnson sang the Gregorian mass, the solo being sustained by Miss Alice E. Murphy and Mr. Andrew McCarthy. Mr. Johnson presiding at the organ. There were many beautiful floral tributes. The bearers were James Bourke, James J. Bourke, John J. Brady, Thomas Moran, James McKiernan, Thomas McDermott, Thomas Brady and John Clancy. At the grave the Rev. John McHugh read the committal prayers and the burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery in charge of Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

LOGAN—Bernard Logan, aged 71, died yesterday night, July 4, at the Chelmsford street hospital. His body was removed to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Annie Devine, 25 By street. Mr. Logan is survived by his wife, two sons, Michael and William, and one daughter, Mrs. Annie Devine.

PROSTRATIONS AT CHELMSFORD

Mrs. Susan Smith of Bridge street and Mrs. Mary Johnson of Billerica street, Chelmsford centre, were both prostrated by the heat on Tuesday. They are resting comfortably today.

While at work in a hay field at Chelmsford yesterday afternoon Leonard Wright was prostrated by the heat. He was removed in an unconscious condition to his home where he regained consciousness.

Two More Victims

Michael McGowan of 139 Colburn street died this morning at his home from the effects of the heat. His death was soon followed by that of Michael Langan of 142 of the same street. The two men were feeling all right last night, but today they could not stand the intense heat and they both succumbed suddenly. The two bodies were removed to the funeral parlors of Undertaker Molloy.

Heat Kills One

There were three deaths at the Chelmsford street hospital this morning, one being due to heat prostration and the other two indirectly to the heat.

Babies Are Dying

Babies are dying all over the city and the district physicians are working night and day. Every place they go endeavor to get families to seek the open air, especially the women and children. On account of the scarcity of milk and so much sour milk the babies are going hungry. The demand upon the dispensary at city hall yesterday was a record breaker and it looks as if it would be increased today.

Found Dead In Bed

Arthur W. Harris, aged about 63 years, was found dead in bed at the residence of James Cryan at 13 Myrtle street, where he boarded, about 8 o'clock this morning. Death was due to the exercise heat.

Harris was apparently in the best of health last night when he retired and occupants of the house heard the man in the bath room about 2 o'clock this morning. When Harris did not put in an appearance about 8 o'clock this morning Mr. Cryan thought that something must be wrong and going to the man's room found him dead. A physician was called. Mr. Cryan feeling that there might be some life left and that Harris could be resuscitated, but the doctor said the man had been dead for several hours, death having been due to heat prostration.

The police were notified and the body was removed to the funeral parlors of Undertaker Molloy.

Death in No. Billerica

James A. Elwood, the well known grocer of North Billerica, died suddenly last night as a result of the heat.

of the past few days. Mr. Elwood had not been in the best of health of late, but had been able to attend to his duties and was in the store last night at 6 o'clock.

Later he felt an illness and went to his home over the store. A physician was called, but despite the fact that the latter did everything possible Mr. Elwood passed away shortly afterwards.

The deceased was well known in Billerica and this city, where he was in business before going to Billerica. He is survived by a wife and one son, Charles.

Fell From Roof

The excessive heat of last night was indirectly responsible for Leo Coughlin, aged ten years, falling off the roof of his home and suffering a broken back this morning. He is now at the Lowell hospital and little hope is entertained for his recovery.

The boy had spread a mattress on the roof and retired late. Shortly before 2 o'clock this morning he rolled off the mattress onto the roof and then over the side into the yard.

The ambulance was summoned and the injured lad was taken to the Lowell hospital where he received treatment.

Chief Hoosier Gets Orders

The wetting down of the houses and streets in the congested districts by the firemen for the past several nights has resulted in people in those places securing temporary relief and in all probability has been the means of saving many people from being prostrated, but Chief E. S. Hoosier has received notice from Mayor Meehan at the suggestion of Supt. Robert J. Thomas of the water department that owing to the lack of water the wetting down will have to be stopped.

Last night over a score of firemen were at work wetting down the streets

In Little Canada, Davidson and Howe streets and in the vicinity of Central and North streets.

Several members of each company were detached to assist in the work. The sunbaked houses and sweltering occupants welcomed the firemen and while the majority of the men and women remained indoors or at a distance from the water, the children had the time of their lives for they ran through the streams, rolled in the water and enjoyed it immensely.

In some of the houses the wetting down caused the temperature to drop from 15 to 20 degrees.

Prostration at City Hall

A Mrs. Scannell, while in the board of charities office at city hall, at 11 o'clock this morning, was overcome by the heat and she was removed in the ambulance to the Chelmsford street hospital.

Patrick Royall of Broadway who was overcome by the heat yesterday in Broadway and removed to St. John's hospital where he received treatment and was afterwards released was prostrated again this morning. He was removed in the ambulance to the Lowell hospital.

Two More Deaths

George Fleurie, aged 4 months and 15 days, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Narcisse Fleurie, of 119 Ford street, and Armand Lavoie, aged 7 months, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Emile Lavoie, passed away this morning from the effects of the heat. The latter is the second death in the same house since yesterday, little Alfrida Desrosiers, also of 5 Ward street, having been buried this afternoon.

Thermometer Goes to 104

At 8 o'clock a number of policemen on the late shift reported simultaneously from different parts of the city that the temperature this morning was five degrees higher than at the same time yesterday. Shortly before noon today the thermometer registered 104 in the shade at several places throughout the city, while in the sun it went nearly to 140. All the small house thermometers that registered only to 120, which were left in the sun, went to smash. The country towns around Lowell report as hot and in some cases hotter weather than we are getting in the city.

More Prostrations

At 1:30 o'clock this morning the ambulance was called to 26 West Sixth street where a woman named Mrs. Cole had been overcome by the heat. She was taken to the Lowell hospital.

Ellen Keegan of Market street was overcome at nine o'clock this morning and removed in the ambulance to the Chelmsford street hospital.

At 9:30 o'clock the ambulance was called to 54 Salem street to remove Arthur Leroux to the Lowell hospital. He had been prostrated by the heat. The ambulance was called to 60 Race street at 10:15 o'clock this morning to take John Kelly, who was suffering from the heat, to the Lowell hospital.

Margaret McQueen, 45 years of age, died suddenly this morning at her home 465 Lawrence street. It is believed that her death was due to the excessive heat.

Deaths and Prostrations

Deaths occurring late yesterday afternoon and last night and for which the heat was responsible were as follows: William Mooney, James Elwood, Arthur J. Durgin, Mrs. Nellie Hartley and Michael Welch.

Prostrations occurring late yesterday afternoon and last night were as follows: Mary Perian, Frank Nole, John Clancy, Patrick Royall.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

DEBUT OF JOHN PAUL JONES

JULY 6.—John Paul Jones made his debut on the stage of the living July 6, 1747. He was a Scotchman, also a sailor, who made a number of trips to Virginia as an apprentice of a shipping merchant who hung out his shingle at Salway street. The merchant went broke and John Paul went to America. When the Revolution broke out Jones was living in poverty at Fredericksburg, Virginia, and he offered Congress his services for the navy then forming. Congress listened to the plans of the young Scotchman and he was placed on the committee to purchase vessels. In the summer of 1775 he had frightened the English out of their wits by sailing up and down their coast and capturing everything worth while. In midsummer of 1779 he was placed in command of the Bon Homme Richard and on September 23, off Flamborough Head, he fought the fight with the Serapis, which made his name immortal. During the engagement the flag of the American ship was lost in the smoke. "Has your ship struck?" asked Capt. Pearson of the Serapis. "I haven't begun to fight yet," said Jones as the hand grenades of his crew set the Serapis on fire. This made the contest too hot for the English captain, so he surrendered his sword to Jones and asked him to please call the fire department.

JOSEPH'S AIM POOR

Man Escaped a Shower of Bullets

LEOMINSTER, July 6.—Late yesterday afternoon John Joseph, 35 years of age, of Union street fired five shots. It is alleged, at Giovanni Rogers, 24, but his aim was poor. It is said, and both men were taken into custody, the former on a charge of carrying a loaded weapon without a permit and the latter on a charge of assault.

Rogers, who is unmarried, visited the Joseph house to see Mrs. Joseph, the police say, and was warned away by the husband, who caused Rogers to be sent to jail a year ago, the sentence expiring recently.

When Rogers called yesterday afternoon Joseph ejected him from the yard. It is alleged, and then returned to the plaza. No danger had been done so, he told the police, then Rogers, at a distance of 25 feet, whipped out a revolver, but before he could get it in to action Joseph got the drop upon him and it was all Rogers could do, it is claimed, to escape the fusillade of bullets sent in his direction by the late husband.

Word was phoned to patrolman 511, Richard T. Conlon, who made the arrest.

A BRUSH FIRE

A telephone alarm at 3.08 o'clock yesterday afternoon was for a brush fire in the West Meadow road on land belonging to E. B. Pierce.

At 5.16 o'clock a portion of the department was called to the dump in East Merrimack street where there was a lively blaze in progress.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. George E. Burns and Mrs. Estelle A. Colburn, both well known Lowell people, were united in marriage by the Rev. Arthur C. O'Connell at 11.15 o'clock Monday evening. Mr. William Harvey of Lowell was best man and his wife, Mrs. Wm. Harvey was bridesmaid. The party left Lowell in an automobile and returned the same way. The bride was accompanied in the car by her sister, Miss Margaret, who was bridesmaid. The bridegroom wore a pink suit and carried a large bouquet of lilies of the valley. After a short wedding tour the happy couple will spend the next two months at Mr. Burns' summer villa at Waldoboro, Maine, returning to Lowell in September.

John R. Claffey, Ph. D., pastor of the Methodist church, performed the ceremony. The bride was assisted by her sister, Louise, as bridesmaid, and John William Carney was best man. The ushers were Miss Mildred Hayman, Miss Mildred Court and Miss Anna Preston, and the gift room was in charge of Miss Melvina Tucker. The wedding march was played by Miss Marion Newhall. The bride presented a charming appearance in white chiffon over morganite, and her veil was caught up with lilies of the valley. She carried a beautiful bouquet of bride's roses. The bridesmaid wore yellow silk with allover lace and carried red roses. The ceremony was the double ring service. Later the happy couple were assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Hiram G. Bryant and Mr. and Mrs. William C. Nickles in receiving their many friends. The house was very prettily decorated in pink and white, with an abundance of roses. Many out of town friends were present from Lowell, Chelsea, Boston, Lynn, Salem, Chelmsford, Carlisle and Billerica. Many beautiful presents were received by Mr. and Mrs. Nickles. Later the bride and bridegroom left town for a bridal tour to the White Mountains, and on their return they will reside at 34 County street, Peabody.

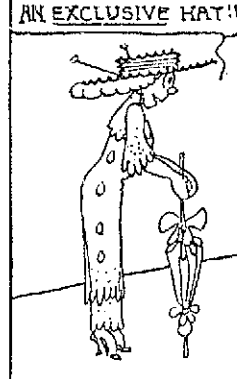

ARMY ENGINEERS

ARE DOING EXCELLENT WORK IN AVIATION STUDY

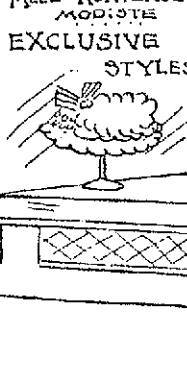

WASHINGTON, July 6.—The army engineers engaged in the study of aviation at College Park, Md., near this city, are daily showing excellent results. The altitude record for the grounds has been achieved by Lieut. Arnold. Almost every day, however, progress is shown and his mark of 2000 feet may be beaten soon. Lieut. Milling, speeding before a stiff wind, made 70 miles an hour at the 2000 foot level. When he landed it was within 12 feet of his starting point.

O'SULLIVAN ELECTED

Deadlock Over Choice of Principal Assessor Broken at Last

Jeremiah J. O'Sullivan, Esq., was elected principal assessor by the board of aldermen at their regular meeting held last night. Mr. O'Sullivan was elected on the first ballot, seven of the nine aldermen voting for him. Two of the aldermen, Messrs. Connors and Flanagan, voted for Dr. James J. McCarthy. The common council elected Mr. O'Sullivan a week ago and now that he has been elected in concurrence he will take office at once. He will take the place of Solomon S. Mayberry who has been a holdover since the first of the year. The new assessor is the son of James O'Sullivan of O'Sullivan Bros. Co.

Mr. O'Sullivan is well qualified by training and experience to perform the duties of his office. After graduating at the Lowell high school he spent two years at the Institute of pany for pole locations on Walnut street and in B street was held. The petition was referred to the committee on wires.

Hearing on petition of the Oblate fathers to move a building to the corner of Moody and Spaulding streets was held. Petition granted.

Mr. Barrett moved that a ballot be taken for principal assessor. It was so voted and Jeremiah J. O'Sullivan was declared elected in concurrence, receiving 7 of the 9 votes. Those voting for Mr. O'Sullivan were: Messrs. Barrett, Burns, Daly, Gallagher, Jodoin, Rountree and Toupin. Messrs. Connors and Flanagan voted for Dr. James J. McCarthy.

An order to hold primaries by precincts and for the appointment of a committee on polling places was read. Aldermen Barrett and Flanagan were appointed on the committee.

A joint order to borrow $19,000 for a new bridge over the canal in Market street and the repair of several other bridges was referred to the committee on appropriations.

The opinion of the city solicitor relative to the city's authority to build and rent conduits for underground wires was read. The solicitor said the city did not have the right to do it. The opinion was placed on file.

Several sewer resolutions were adopted as was also a resolution to lay out and accept Burton street.

A resolution to accept a sidewalk on Chelmsford street on the easterly side from Cambridge street was adopted.

The report of the committee on ordinance and legislation relative to an ordinance creating a city council fund was read. The report stating that the ordinance was correctly drawn. The report was accepted.

THE PARLIAMENT BILL

Has Been Amended by the Lords

LONDON, July 6.—The house of lords last night by a vote of 253 to 46 passed Lord Lansdowne's amendment to the veto bill, which provides that no bill affecting the existence of the crown or Protestant succession, or the establishment of a national parliament or a body with legislative powers in any portion of the kingdom, or which, in the judgment of a joint committee of the two houses, raises an issue of great gravity, shall receive royal assent until it has been submitted to the referendum. War Secretary Haldane again made it clear that the government would refuse to accept the amendment.

An interesting feature of the debate was the intervention of the bishop of Ripon, who said that he disliked the referendum, which was advocated by Lord Lansdowne, but preferred it to the veto bill.

TWO LAWRENCE BOYS

Were Drowned in the Merrimack River

LAWRENCE, July 6.—John Roshinsky, aged 9, of 219 Valley street, was drowned in the Merrimack river near Martin court yesterday afternoon. The bathhouses were crowded, and he with a number of other boys went to bathing outside. He jumped from a bait box and failed to rise. The body was recovered.

Gus Schreier, aged 17 of S Sargent street, while seeking relief from the heat by bathing in the Merrimack near the Essex county training school last night, was drowned. His body has not been recovered.

Dr. Welch Confirmed
Mayor Meehan's appointment of Dr. Edward J. Welch as library trustee to succeed the late Thomas Walsh, was confirmed unanimously.

Last night's meeting of the board was a shirt-sleeve affair and any superfluous hot air would have made matters very uncomfortable. Just for that the meeting was not as elongated as some of its predecessors. There was no attempt at speechmaking and that helped some. Acting City Messenger George Dean was right there on the job every minute and he made conditions as comfortable as the weather clerk would permit.

The meeting was called at a quarter to nine o'clock and that's pretty early for a meeting nowadays.

A hearing on petition of the Boston & Northern street railway for pole locations in Foster street, was declared open by the chairman. Supt. Thomas Lee explained the situation and told why the locations were needed.

Frank Stowell was a remonstrant. He was not present but was represented by Aldermen Connors. The whys of the remonstrants were not explained. The matter was referred to the committee on wires.

There were no remonstrants to the petition of the New England Telephone & Telegraph company for pole locations in Pollard street. Petition was referred.

Announcement Extraordinary

The New York Store takes extreme pleasure and they trust pardonable pride in their ability to herewith make announcement that they have secured and shall exhibit the exact duplicate of

The Coronation Gown

Made by Worth and as worn by Queen Mary on that momentous occasion, the Coronation of the British Sovereigns

Tomorrow and Following Days

The Coronation Gown will be exhibited in our store draped on a model who will appear in addition to wearing this magnificent robe a gorgeous crown and carrying the regulation sceptre. You are cordially invited to visit us and inspect this gorgeous costume devised by that genius, Worth, of Paris.

Probably never in the history of the world has a costume of such surpassing magnificence been devised. Never has a Lowell house been able to place on exhibition a gown of such rare beauty. Intrinsic value ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS.

We are proud of our achievement in securing this great production for Lowell. Permit us to assure the Lowell ladies that it will ever be our aim to exhibit for their benefit the new ideas, the latest efforts of fashion designers that may be brought forth from time to time, as for instance, the Harem Skirt. Now the Coronation Gown.

A WATER FAMINE

Is Threatened in This City, According to Supt. Thomas

At a meeting of the water board held last night Supt. Thomas submitted a rather startling report relative to Lowell's water supply, and he says it is up to the people of Lowell to go easy on the water if they would avoid a water famine. The board instructed Supt. Thomas to confer with the superintendent of streets and chief of the fire department and advise a more careful use of the city's water. The board went so far as to consider the advisability of prohibiting the watering of lawns throughout the city. The Cook wells have been running longer than the state board advises that they should be run at one time, because of the peculiar action of Cook well water on lead pipes, and to shut off these wells would mean a shortage of four and a half million gallons a day. Since the hot weather set in there has been an excess consumption of 2,000,000 gallons a day and the water is falling in the reservoir. The reading of the scale at the reservoir on July 1 was 18 feet 11 inches, and at 5 p. m. yesterday the water stood at 17 feet 1 inch.

President Van Tassel called the meeting to order at 8:20 o'clock. Fred C. Humphries presented a claim amounting to $152 for injuries sustained while working in the boulevard pumping station. The board will pay the claim.

Mr. Joseph W. Griffin, Monadnock avenue, presented a petition to have the water main, which ends at his home, extended through to Pine street in order to get better water. The board later granted the extension, with the provision that Mr. Griffin pay the interest on the cost of said extension.

Mr. Eugene Gosselin of Henry avenue also presented a petition to have the water main extended from the house of Mr. Blanchard Pratt about 200 feet away to the house, which he is now building. The board granted the petition on the condition that Mr. Gosselin pay the interest on the money expended.

THE IVERNIA

TEMPORARILY PATCHED UP SET SAIL TODAY

QUEENSTOWN, July 6.—The Cunarder Ivernia, temporarily patched up, sailed this morning for Liverpool under her own steam but escorted by five tugs and salvage steamers. The Ivernia has been laid up since she struck near Daunt rock during a fog on May 24. She was coming in here from Boston at the time. Permanent repairs will be made at Liverpool.

MAN WAS DRUGGED

Says He Was Robbed of $300

EXETER, N. H., July 6.—A stranger found Monday morning on River street believed then to be a victim of heat prostration, was yesterday discharged from the Cottage hospital and went to his home in Roxbury, Mass. He gave his name as Lewis Smith of 147 Humboldt avenue, Roxbury, and said he has been employed as a wood chopper at Houlton, Me.

He says he drew Saturday $244 wages for about nine months, and with Michael Ellis, his wife's cousin, started for his home.

On arrival in Exeter Ellis persuaded him to stop over that the latter might visit a friend. On the way from the station, he says, Ellis urged him to take a drink and he finally consented on assurance that it was merely wine. After the drink he says he knew nothing until he awoke at the hospital. He says the wine was drugged.

His money had vanished and he could not find Ellis to explain the matter. The latter's address, Smith says, is unknown to him. Supt. Charles G. Gooch believed Smith's story to be true and gave him a ticket to Boston.

HE DROPPED DEAD

Undertaker Was Preparing Body for Burial

HUDSON, July 6.—Undertaker Jay Henry Herriek, 62 years old, dropped dead yesterday while laying out the body of Mrs. Eliza Barton Wheeler at the farm of Mrs. Abbie A. Penney, Brigham street. He was called there about 10 o'clock and was at work, assisted by Mrs. Benjamin Noyes, when he fell to the floor with a gasp, expiring immediately.

Dr. Frederick P. Glazier was summoned, and after examining the body and finding life extinct, went to the Herriek home and notified Mrs. Harriet Dr. John A. McGrath viewed the body and pronounced death due to indigestion, producing syncope.

GENERAL BIXBY

DESCRIBES CONDITION OF THE MAINE

WASHINGTON, July 6.—General Bixby, who declared in an interview here last night that the Maine was wrecked in Havana harbor by the explosion of her own magazines, is quoted as saying that his soundings showed that at least two-thirds of the bow was utterly wrecked. The sides had been practically blown away and were buried in the mud. This, he believed, indicated conclusively that the wreck was from internal sources.

FOR GRIMY HANDS USE CARBONOL

WHEN you do any kind of greasy work, the grease works into the pores of the skin and soap and water are powerless to remove it. Put a little Carbonol into the basin and see what a difference it makes!

Half the dirt in the world is greasy dirt and that is why Carbonol which dissolves grease, is so useful in almost any kind of cleaning.

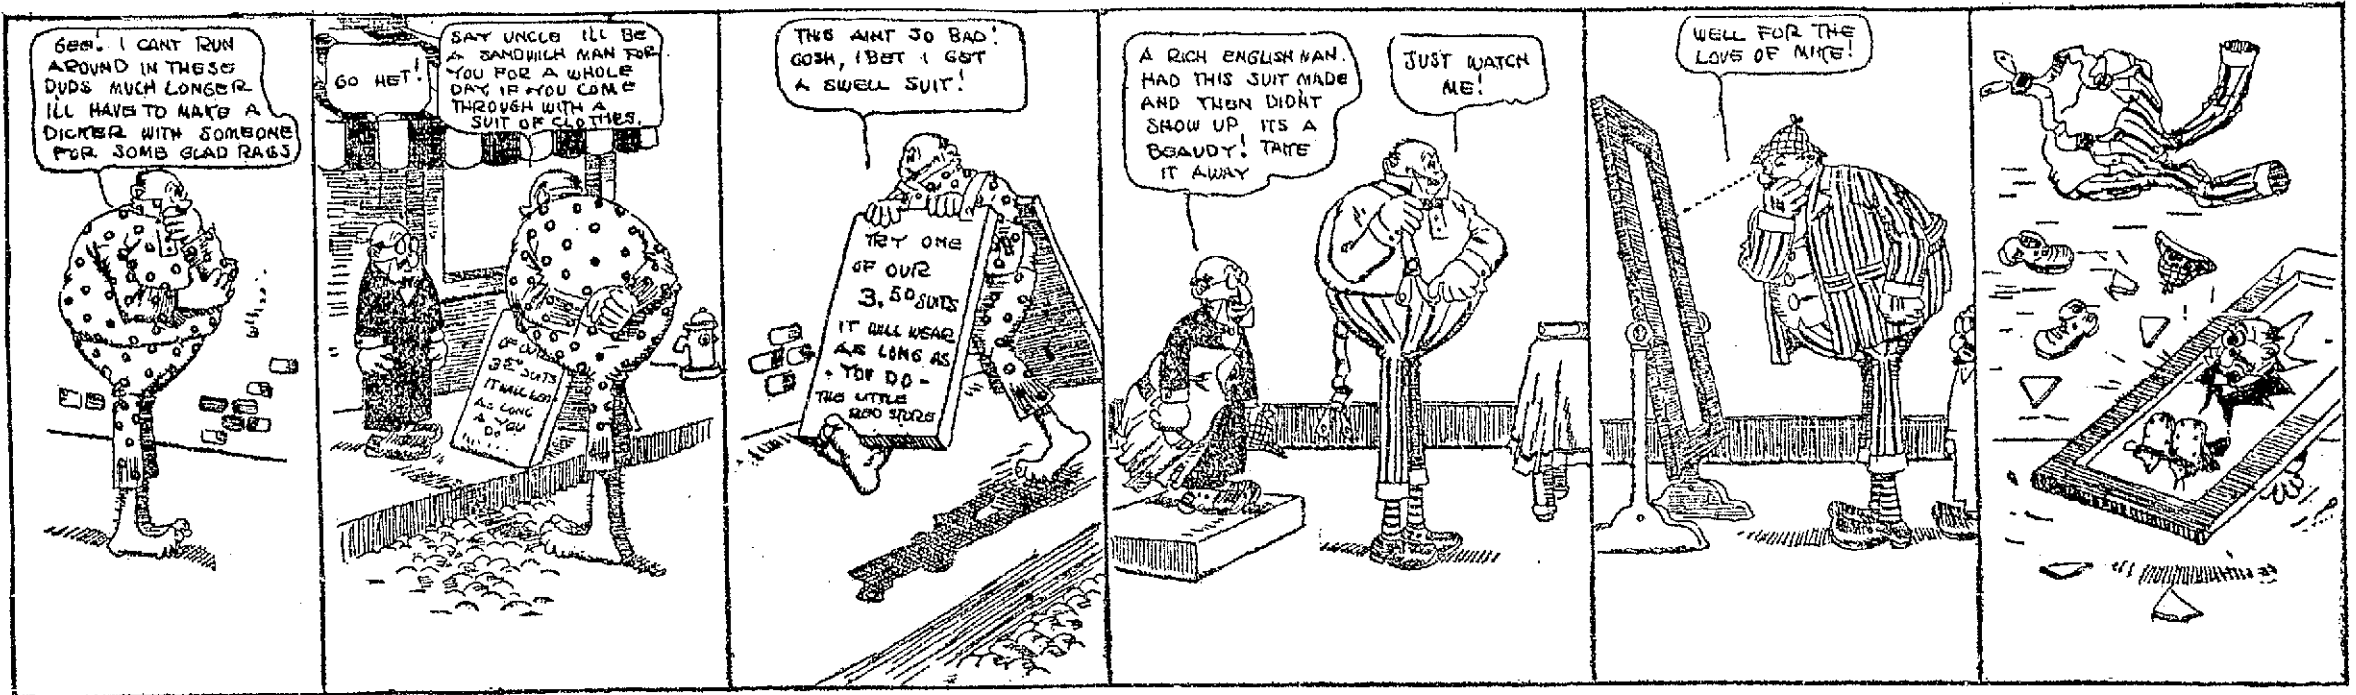

Use it to take away stains on clothing and carpets. Put a little in the water used in house cleaning and it will make the dirt and grime vanish like magic.

201 DIED IN CHICAGO

273 Other Persons Prostrated During the Hot Wave

CHICAGO, July 6.—Two hundred and one deaths and two hundred and seventy-three prostrations was the toll exacted by Chicago's record-breaking hot wave, which lasted for five days. One hundred and twenty-five infants who died from the heat are included in the list of dead.

The hot wave was broken shortly after one o'clock this morning by rain, which brought with it a cool breeze and a drop in temperature of six degrees. Later the mercury gradually dropped, until at nine o'clock the temperature was 78, compared with 93 for the same hour yesterday. The official weather forecaster predicts cooler, unsettled weather today with thunder storms for tonight. The forecast for Friday is clear and cool.

SUBWAY BLOCKADE

Passengers in Stalled Train Were in Serious Condition

NEW YORK, July 6.—A blockade in the subway today capped the misery of the hot wave. When the stalled train finally crept into the underground stations fainting passengers were helped out by the score. Many had to be carried to drug stores and some taken to hospitals. While the blockade lasted the list of prostrations grew faster than any previous time since day's and today's games were postponed.

Paddy Bauman looked worth the money in yesterday's game.

Moranville is a fast worker.

"Pike" Wright collapsed on the players' bench in the 3d inning and was unconscious for 15 minutes. Dr. Collins, the club physician, brought him around. He was quite weak last night and will not play for a few days. Wright came here from Panama, a hot country, but it is the humidity of New England that gets them all.

Harry Huston was right there with two fine three buggers.

Lawrence showed good judgment in postponing yesterday's game. Several of the Worcester players came over to see the Lowell game.

Red Rorty made his first appearance, and umpired a faultless game. Red has the goods as an umpire.

An unusual double play occurred in the ninth that fooled Conroy and a majority of the fans. With Pruitt on first Rising put a grounder to Huston who touched first putting out the runner and then threw to second. Conroy got the ball before Pruitt reached second but didn't tag him, and there was a holler when Pruitt was called safe. But Rorty was right because the moment Rising was put out Pruitt ceased to be forced to second and might have returned to first and hence it was necessary to tag him to put him out.

"Put those fellows out of left field," cried Tom Dowd to Rorty.

"Yes, aye. Ill police the ground, I guess," replied Red.

FOR PURSE OF $50

LINCOLNS AND SOUTH ENDS WILL MEET AT SPALDING PARK

On next Saturday afternoon at Spaulding Park the Lincolns and South Ends will meet in a blood game for a purse of $50. The rivalry between these two teams is intense and each will present its strongest line up. The battery for the South Ends will be McGraw and Devlin. Andy Goggin the promising young southpaw who has pitched with such splendid success this season will be on the firing line for the Lincolns and Edwards will catch. A large delegation of rooters will accompany each team.

BLOOMER GIRLS

AND Y. M. C. I.'s AT SPALDING PARK TOMORROW

On Friday afternoon of this week the baseball fans of this city, as well as the women and children will be given a treat at Spaulding park, and an opportunity to see for the first time on these grounds the champion girl baseball team of the world, when the Chicago Bloomer Girls, with Miss Maud Nelson, the champion girl pitcher for the South Ends will be met by the Y. M. C. I. ball team which has proved without a doubt to be the strongest independent team in this city.

This team of female ball players have played many of the fastest league and independent teams all over the country, and put up a very fast game. Preparations are being made for a big day at the park on Friday, and a large crowd will undoubtedly be on hand.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

At the meeting of Loyal Excelsior lodge, I. O. O. F., M. U. held in 120, G. A. R. hall in Merrimack street, the following officers were installed: Grand master, William Oddie; noble grand, Joseph Whiteside; vice grand, Edward J. Rothwell; permanent secretary, Edward Hanson; elective secretary, Samuel Oddie; treasurer, Andrew Movatt; chaplain, Ben Ingham; cardinal, George Ramsley; supporters, George Camp, John Tomlinson, Henry Stevens and James Hill.

STRUCK ON SHOAL

VINEYARD HAVEN, July 6.—The three masted schooner Carrie A. Buckman, bound from Stockton, Me., for New York with a cargo of spruce lumber struck on a shoal off Cape Pogeus, Nantucket sound, early today. The Buckman's plight was reported here by Captain Tower of the schooner Susie P. Oliver who was near the Buckman when she ran aground. An effort was made to send the revenue cutter Aushnet to the schooner's assistance but the Aushnet was not at Wood's Hole and the wireless was brought into use. There was no steamer here that could be sent to aid the Buckman. Captain Tower reported a strong southwest wind blowing with a choppy sea.

AGENT WM. MITCHELL

Closes Massachusetts Mills for Remainder of Week

Because he believes it inhuman to ask mill operatives to work in such death dealing weather, Agent William A. Mitchell of the Massachusetts mills closed the plant at 3 o'clock this afternoon and it will remain closed during the rest of the week.

There were quite a number of heat prostrations in the mills today, and in existing conditions. We had prostration cases here today but none of them were serious. I will close the mills at three o'clock this afternoon and they will remain closed until next Monday morning.

THE HOT WEATHER

MAY CAUSE ICE AND MILK FAMINE IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, July 6.—Chicago is facing an ice and milk famine as a result of the continued hot weather. The heat has cut the supply of ice 50 per cent. Milk dealers are predicting the greatest shortage in the supply of milk ever experienced in the city.

THEATRICAL TROUPE OVERCOME

WEBSTER, July 6.—An entire theatrical troupe lay prostrated from the heat here today. They had been playing melodrama during the hot spell with the temperature 100 on the stage.

MRS. TAYLOR DEAD

WAKEFIELD, July 6.—The heat claimed another victim when Mrs. Christiana Taylor, 62, died here today. Patrick Welch was prostrated by the heat. Thermometers registered 97 degrees in the shade at 11 o'clock and as a result several factories employing about 1000 persons closed down until next Monday.

DIED DURING NIGHT

LYNN, July 6.—Four days of torridity proved too much for Mrs. Esther Livermore, aged 77 years, and she died during the night at her home in this city.

FIRE ON PAWTUCKET BRIDGE

A still alarm this afternoon called a portion of the fire department on the Pawtucket bridge where a slight blaze was in progress. The fire probably was set by a lighted cigar butt. There was no damage.

LAKEVIEW THEATRE

The coolest spot around Lowell in this extremely hot spell is the Lakeview theatre. The company this week is presenting "Salomey Jane," the great play of California life suggested to the author, Paul Armstrong, from the story of the same name by Bret Harte. The play is true to the characters found in this district and the leading part, "Salomey Jane," is a girl of the mountains with a big heart and her efforts to save the life of "The Man" leads her to fall in love with him and around these two central characters is wound one of the sweetest love stories ever written. The comedy element runs throughout the play and comedy, combined with sentiment, is sure to give to the auditors a pleasant evening's entertainment. There is a matinee every day excepting Mondays. This stock company will present the great star play of "As Men Sow" for their next attraction.—Adv.

BABY'S CHEEKS WERE SORE

Very often a stubborn eruption will break out on a baby's face and the mother is at her wits' end to know how to cure it. Mrs. C. S. Hoffman, of Milnet, N. D., says, "Since our baby's birth she has had a bad breaking out on her cheeks, but after using Comfort Powder it is entirely healed." Every baby ought to have Comfort Powder so that it would be free from chafing, irritations and rashes. Comfort Powder soothes and heals the skin and keeps it firm and well. The genuine bears E. S. Sykes' name.

BOARD OF CHARITY

Receives Offer of Contagious Hospital Site

The board of charities met last night and approved monthly bills. Reports of ambulance surgeons were submitted and accepted.

The request of the city council asking that the dispensary be kept open Saturdays and holidays was discussed. The board allowed that inasmuch as any district physician who is called on a case on a Saturday afternoon, Sunday or holiday, can send to any drug store for anything that is needed at the expense of the board it would not be necessary to keep the dispensary open as requested and the city council's request was placed on file.

A letter was received from Mrs. O. E. Paul of Tyngsboro, who offered to sell her farm in that town for a contagious hospital site. The letter was placed on file.

Commissioner Ricard said that in St. Joseph's parish it was proposed to establish what is known as a Credit Union. He said it would be a great help to the poor people, as money under this system, could be loaned at a very small rate of interest and without security. The board allowed that it would be a good thing.

Land For Militia

The committee on military affairs met last night and voted to recommend that the Livingston land be hired for the militia.

Estimates for the repair of the Dracut rifle range were read by Inspector James Dow. The matter was laid over to the next meeting.

The matter of hiring land for the local militia companies to maneuver on was discussed. Mr. Gallagher moved that the committee recommend the hiring of the Livingston land for five months at $5 a month. It was so voted.

Committee on Sewers

The committee on sewers met last night but did not transact any regular business. A few matters were discussed and no action was taken.

Park Commission

The park commission met last night and approved bills for the purchase of the Livingston land for a new park.

THE GRADE CROSSING PERIL

Five picnickers killed by a train at a grade crossing was the heading of a news despatch in Monday's papers. That was a case of carelessness in which a party drove upon the crossing assuming without any right that the road was clear. Had they exercised the slightest caution they would at least have noticed the warning sign overhead or stopped to look whether any train was approaching. It is no excuse that the view of the approaching train was obstructed by a building. The railroad company assumes that nobody will drive across the track without looking whether the track is clear or whether to advance a step means death as was the case at Ozone park on Sunday. Grade crossings are the cause of many accidents for the reason that people forget all about them and pass on at their own peril.

THE SUMMER CAMP AS A LIFE SAVER

The sooner people get back to Nature in their habits of living the sooner will they overcome some of their present ills and most of their discomforts.

The camping out habit that is becoming so common tends in this direction and should be encouraged. Those simple little camps that we see along the Merrimack, the Concord and on the borders of lakes and ponds are the summer retreats of families who live and toil in the city, but who spend their week-ends, their evenings and their holidays here in close touch with Nature, enjoying the cool shade, the pure air and complete rest while escaping the intense heat of the city, as well as its alluring temptations.

On any public street exposed to the sun during the day the reflected heat will be fully as great as the direct heat of the sun. The pavements and the sides of the buildings get heated and send the heat radiating into the air, adding much to the temperature and to the discomfort of those who pass by. It is well for those who can escape this dangerous condition, but the poor people in the congested districts who have no camps and no escape but what they find in the public parks are really to be pitied. If the park commission considers their needs in the development of its plans, it will establish as many small parks through the city as possible and provide as much cool shade as possible in all our parks. In the very hot weather the demand is for cool shade in which those who are overcome with the heat can lie and rest night and day if need be. It is a matter of life saving in weather such as we have at present to provide this shade within easy reach, pure drinking water and a system of public baths. The absence of any opportunity for bathing drives many people to the verge of suicide. They suffer so much from the heat that they rush to rivers and lakes and plunge in, little heeding the danger they incur.

It is really a reflection upon our city government that we have no system of public baths so greatly needed by our citizens. The time has come when no factory city should be without a system of public baths. We have been talking of baths for ten years past, but apparently we are as far from having them now as we were then. Owing to the system of government we live under the people cannot get what they want.

It is at a hot weather crisis like the present that the lack of these life saving agencies such as shady parks at our doors and a system of public baths always available seems most inexcusable.

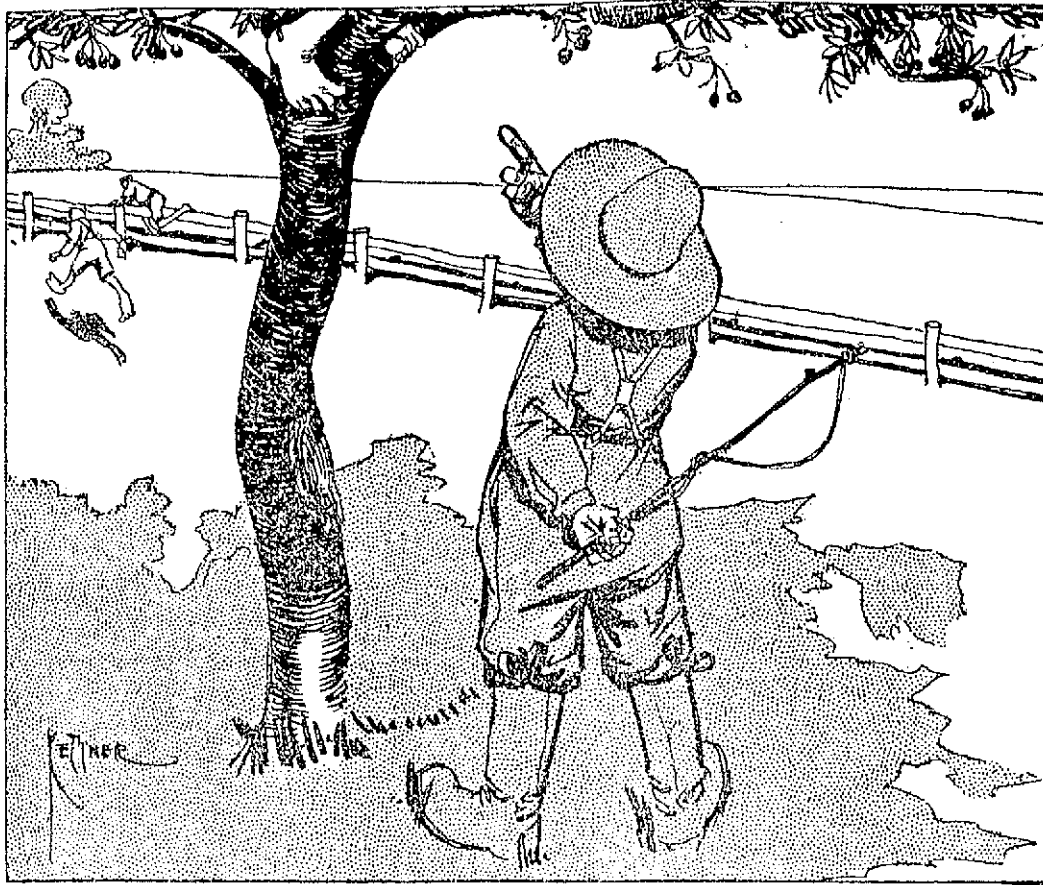

But to return to the summer camps outside the city, they undoubtedly save many lives during the course of the year. This camp life will save the babies from many ills inevitable in the city; it will ward off or help relieve them of cholera infantum and other ills brought on by the summer heat. The wealthy man can go off on a vacation to the beaches or mountains, but the poor man who has to work in order to support his family can do nothing better than establish some kind of a summer camp in the suburbs at which he can spend his week-ends and his evenings, and at which sick members of his family may be recuperated. It is not necessary that the camp be anything elaborate. The cheap shack that any handy man can build will answer the purpose until something more desirable can be procured. The child who is running barefooted on the green sward in a pine grove or under the cool shade of majestic trees is not likely to get sick as a result of the heat. Of course children are often made sick by careless feeding in hot weather, but other things being equal their chances of remaining well at a little country camp are vastly greater than if they remained in the city.

It may be remarked that the foreigners who are coming to our city of late are beginning to take up the camping-out habit. Down the river below Haverhill there are probably 500 acres occupied by camps and huts, all owned by Italians who in time will doubtless be the owners and the farmers of that district. Almost all of them work in Haverhill and take the cars between their rural habitations and the city where they work.

As soon as men get the camping habit, they begin to cultivate a little garden and thus to draw upon the soil for their support. In this way thousands of acres have been made fertile by cultivation, and a very large number of people have learned the secret of drawing upon the soil for part of the treasures it holds for those who take the trouble to find them.

Henceforth as a source of pleasure, an aid to health and especially as a protection against oppressive heat, we would advise every working man who can do so, to secure a camp in a shady retreat in the suburbs, a place to which he can take his family at little or no expense to enjoy the fine scenery, the cool shade and the invigorating ozone of the forests. Such a camp will save doctors' bills if rightly used, or in case of sickness, it may prove the most acceptable hospital. Nowhere will a child sick with cholera infantum recuperate as fast as in one of these little camps, provided it receives the food suitable to its weakened condition. Everybody who works hard the year round needs a vacation, but for those who cannot get away the next best thing, or perhaps even a better thing is the summer camp with its complete rest away from all excitement, away from the nerve-racking din and noise of city life and away also from what has well been called the "Solitude" of the city.

CHERRIES ARE RIPE

SEEN AND HEARD

MY MOTHER'S PRAYER

As I wandered 'round the homestead,
Many a dear, familiar spot
Brought within my recollection
Scenes I'd seemingly forgot;
There the orchard, meadow yonder,
Here the deep, old-fashioned well
With its old moss-covered bucket,
Sent a thrill no tongue can tell.

That the house was held by strangers,
All remained the same within,
Just as when a child I rambled
Up and down and out and in,
To the garret dark ascending,
Once a source of childish dread,
Peering through the misty cobwebs,
Lo! I saw my trundle-bed.

Quick I drew it from the rubbish,
Covered o'er with dust so long,
When, behold, I hear in fancy
Strains of one familiar song
Often sung by my dear mother
To me, in that trundle-bed,
"Hush my dear, be still and slumber,
Holy angels guard thy bed."

While I listen to the music
Stealing on in gentle strain,
I am carried back to childhood;
I am now a child again.
'Tis the hour of my retiring,
At the dusky eventide,
Near my trundle-bed I'm kneeling,
As of yore at mother's side.

Hands are on my head so loving,
As they were in childhood's days,
I with weary ones am trying
To repeat the words she says.
'Tis a prayer in language simple
As a mother's lips can frame,
"Father, thou who art in heaven,
Hallowed ever be thy name."

Prayer is over; to my pillow
With a good-night kiss I creep,
Securely waking while I whisper,
"Now I lay me down to sleep."
Then my mother o'er me bending
Prays in earnest words but mild—
"Hear my prayer, O heavenly Father,
Bless, O bless my precious child!"

Yet I am but only dreaming,
Ne'er I'll be a child again,
Many years have passed me by
In the quiet churchyard choir.
But her blessed, blessed spirit
Daily hovers o'er my head,
Calling me from earth to heaven,
Even from my trundle-bed.

An industrial commission appointed by congress was conducting certain investigations with reference to the operation of mills and factories in various parts of the country, and the members became especially interested in the working of one mill, in a southwestern state.

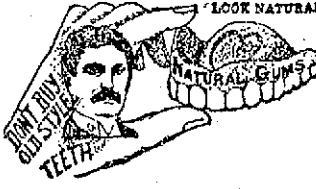

The investigators were in one room when the whistle blew for noon. The operatives put up their tools and vanished as if by magic.

"Do all workmen drop their tools" the instant the whistle blows" asked one of the commission.

"No, not all," answered the man who

THE CARE OF HORSES

Suggestion for Treatment in Hot Weather

The Massachusetts S. P. C. A. offers the following suggestions for owners of horses in caring for their animals during the hot weather:

Prevention
In very hot weather horses should have wet sponges or light shades on the head when at work, or the head may be sponged with cold water as many times a day as possible. Proper attention should be given to feeding and watering, never in excess. During the warm months all stables should be cool and ventilated as much as possible.

Treatment
First aid in cases of sunstroke: Get the horse into a cool, shady place as soon as possible, and to get the best results water should be applied against the body with some force, which can be accomplished by using a hose that will project a spray. If a hose is unavailable, water may be poured from a bucket or wrung from a sponge applied to the head and body. The advantage obtained in adding force to the application of the water lies in the fact that the constant pelting of the drops of water has a powerful stimulating effect. Water should be applied constantly to the head. In all cases a veterinary should be called.

FOUR WERE INJURED

When Machine Crashed Into a Tree

BOSTON, July 6.—Three Boston men and a visitor from North Carolina, while motoring east along Commonwealth avenue yesterday afternoon, crashed into a tree opposite the Ellis farm and were injured. The car is owned by W. L. Cowles of 161 Newbury street, who was driving. The other occupants were G. M. Muchmore and Walter Kuno, both of 137 Pembroke street, and J. Johnson of Wilmington, North Carolina.

The men had spent the holiday touring and were coming from Worcester, driving along Commonwealth avenue at a fair rate of speed when Mr. Cowles lost control of the car and went crashing into the tree, turning turtle and plowing the men beneath it. Assistance soon arrived as the noise of the crash attracted attention and many gathered to lend a hand to the injured. In the meantime the Newton police were notified and Chief Mitchell, Sgt. Clay and Officer Mahoney hurried to the scene in the chief's automobile.

Upon their arrival they rendered medical assistance and the men were taken to the Newton hospital, two in the police ambulance and two in the chief's car. Upon being examined at the hospital it was found that three of the men had received slight injuries, while Cowles had a dislocated shoulder and two broken ribs. The car was smashed beyond repair.

BURNS WERE FATAL

Young Wife Poured Kerosene on Fire

RUTLAND, Vt., July 6.—With her entire body burned and in two places quite deeply, Mrs. John Halliday, aged 19, died last night at the Rutland city hospital as the result of an accident at her home on Strong's avenue, when she poured kerosene oil on a smoldering wood fire. She was alone in the upper tenement.

The fire caught quickly and set ablaze a basket containing clothes. This in turn set fire to the paper on the wall. Mrs. Halliday rushed down the back stairs screaming as she went and when she got into the yard her clothes were all ablaze. Mrs. Samuel L. Huffnagle, a relative of Mrs. Halliday, who lives down stairs in the same house, ran to her aid. About the same time the attention of Miss Margaret Sherry who lives next door was attracted and the two women tore some clothes from a nearby clothes line and wrapping Mrs. Halliday in them rolled her on the ground.

A SPECIAL MEETING ROBBERS GOT $200

Held by Dracut Voters Last Night

Despite the torrid weather of last night, there was a good sized attendance at the special meeting of the voters of the town of Dracut. There were but few articles to be considered but the discussion was lengthy. The meeting was called to order about 8.30 o'clock by Town Clerk John W. Brennan, who read the warrant, after which Peter Bolton was chosen moderator without opposition. Article 2 called for a loan of $1250 to complete the proposed addition to the Kenwood school. There was some

Key Workers Entered Middlesex St. Building

From the number of complaints of larcenies received at the police station of late it would appear that there are key workers in the vicinity and in several cases some good hauls have been made. It was only last week that four breaks were made in the Burbank block in Prescott street, Monday morning the store of G. C. Prince & Son in Merrimack street was entered by the use of a key and now it is reported that one of the blocks in Middlesex street was entered and $280 in money stolen. The janitor of the building stated that about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon while he was in the basement of the building and his wife was in another part of the block that some person or persons entered the building and with the aid of keys entered three rooms, including his own, where most of the money was secured. The thieves overlooked a gold watch and chain valued at $150, and in fact, passed over everything except money. The police were notified and inspectors are out on the case, furnished with a slight description of two suspicious looking characters seen in the vicinity about that time.

SPEAKER CLARK

TO PAY A VISIT TO BOSTON NEXT MONTH

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Representative Murray of Boston yesterday got a promise from Speaker Champ Clark to visit there late in August. He asked the speaker to go to Boston and address a large gathering of Massachusetts democrats on an occasion now being organized by Joseph Maynard and the city committee. The speaker said he would probably be able to come.

At the senate yesterday Representative Murray learned that favorable reports would be made today or next day by Senators Shively and Bailey on the apportionment bill which the house passed early this session. This, if it becomes a law at this session, as Representative Murray hears is probable, may give an opportunity to the Massachusetts legislature before it adjourns to reelect the state. Speaker Walker has already promised to appoint a committee of 16 to conduct the redistricting of the state to obtain a fair arrangement of territory between the two parties.

BODY OF BABY GIRL A MYSTERIOUS CASE

Found On Steps of An Undertaker's House

Death of Manchester Child to be Investigated

A baby girl, aged about two or three days, was found this morning wrapped up in a pasteboard box on the steps of Undertaker Amedee Archambault's house. The identity of the child is not known and may never be known.

At 6.30 o'clock this morning Mrs. Archambault went on the piazza to get her milk and there found a box bearing the name of a local florist. Thinking they were flowers, the woman took the box in the house and opened it, and there to her astonishment discovered that it contained the dead body of a pretty little baby girl, well wrapped in cotton.

The box must have been laid on the piazza sometime during the night, for the Archambault family retired after midnight, and when Mr. Archambault arose at 4 o'clock this morning the box was on the steps on the Decatur street side.

The police were notified of the discovery and will make an investigation. The body was viewed by Dr. Mcigs this morning and he later held an autopsy.

MANCHESTER, N. H., July 6.—Dr. George M. Davis, medical referee, was called upon yesterday to investigate mysterious circumstances attending the case of the death of a baby girl yesterday morning at the boarding house of Mrs. Ephrem Gagne, 162 McGregor street.

For more than two months the girl had been cared for in the Gagne home as an "abandoned infant," despite the claim that the child was not abandoned. The case is one of the most mysterious which has come before the county authorities for years.

One day late in April a young woman called at the boarding house of Mrs. Gagne and asked for board for a baby she carried in her arms. This woman was about 25 years old, pretty and neatly dressed. She was of medium build and had dark hair. She appeared to be a woman of tender training.

Mrs. Gagne keeps a boarding house and her time is so taken up with the duties due her regular boarders that she felt she had no time to devote to a baby. She referred her visitor to Mrs. Roy, who lived nearby, and the visitor said she would see Mrs. Roy. Meanwhile, she asked that the baby might rest at the house while she found a place for its board elsewhere.

Mrs. Gagne consented and fixed an easy couch with sofa pillows, upon which the little girl soon fell asleep. The mother went out saying she would return in 15 minutes, but she never came back. The baby girl was taken in charge by Mrs. Gagne, and she thus considered her until two weeks later a letter came without a signature, declaring that the baby was not abandoned, but that the mother would call and pay for its board. She said the baby's name was "Marie Anne Alma," but that she would not give the family name for fear of the father discovering the whereabouts of the child.

When she left the baby she left a bundle of clothing of fine quality. After thinking the baby abandoned, Mrs. Gagne insured the child for a small sum, paying five cents per week, and they will receive about $12.50 towards its burial. The cause of the child's death is reported by Dr. Davis as due to natural causes.

THE SILVER WEDDING

Of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Choquette Observed

Mr. and Mrs. Elzear H. Choquette, formerly of this city and now of New Bedford observed the 25th anniversary of their marriage on July 4, the event being attended by many friends and relatives of the couple, as well as by their ten children. The affair was also a double event for their oldest son, Leon of Bismark, North Dakota, who was recently married at the latter place, was present with his wife, the couple being on their wedding tour. The latter will come to Lowell the latter part of the week, to visit their many relatives.

The festivities opened with a high mass in the French Catholic church of New Bedford, the officiating clergyman being a brother of Mr. Choquette, the Rev. Victor Choquette of Brockton. There was beautiful singing during the mass by the regular church choir and after the service the party repaired to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Choquette, 102 St. Pleasant street, where a dainty dinner was served. The entire day as well as the evening was spent in a cheerful manner, and the hosts of the occasion were the recipients of many costly gifts.

Elzear H. Choquette and Annie Richards were married in this city July 4, 1886, the ceremony being performed at St. Joseph's church by the Rev. Fr. Pelletier, O. M. I., now of Plattsburg, N. Y. Their children, three boys and seven girls were born to them, the oldest one, Leon, being superintendent of a land company at Bismark, N. D., while the second oldest, Ferdinand, is interested in his father's business at New Bedford.

Mr. Choquette who is favorably known in this city, was formerly proprietor of the Lowell One Price Clothing Co., now Macartney's Apparel Shop and also a charity commissioner. Two years ago the family removed to New Bedford, where Mr. Choquette opened up a clothing store known as "Choquette's Apparel Shop."

Among the many guests present at the silver wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Auguste Richards of this city, the former a brother of Mrs. Choquette.

WOUNDED IN LEG

YOUNG MAN STEPPED BEFORE HIS FRIEND'S REVOLVER

NASHUA, July 6.—Nahum King, a young resident of Lynn, who is passing his vacation at Mrs. Jane Burton's in Londonderry, was brought to St. Joseph's hospital yesterday morning with the bones of his right leg below the knee splintered by a bullet.

Vernon Brown, another boarder and King were taking turns practicing with a revolver and Brown had fired two or three shots at a mark when King, thinking his companion had finished, stepped directly in front of him just as he pulled the trigger.

Brown dropped the muzzle of the weapon, but not low enough. Dr. William E. Reed says the injury is a serious one.

CAPTURE OF RIOTERS

Car Operating Under Police Protection Was Attacked

MEXICO CITY, July 6.—A suburb-an car operating under police protection was stopped at San Juan market late last night by several hundred men and boys. The half dozen policemen on the car platforms were powerless. For a time the crowd contented itself with shouting and taunting the police. Then a stone crashed through one of the windows. It was followed by a bombardment. The rioters had chosen a spot within a few squares of a mounted police barracks. A squad of police soon rode into the mob. Not a shot was fired but the rioters placed their swords with telling effect. One striker was struck down and trampled to death under the horses. A woman was caught in the rush and fatally trampled. The rioters fled up side streets and escaped. The police turned their attention to escorting the cars to the barracks. The mob gathered again and stormed the barracks when only a few police were left. They penetrated the building and assaulted the men in their quarters with stones and clubs. A force of infantry hurried to the relief of the guards. The soldiers surrounded the barracks and captured more than 50 of the rioters.

"Coming Back" with a Vengeance
He's a little fellow but—how he does come back. We may spray him, burn him, kill him by the million, but he comes back just the same. He's there with the same stinging punch every season. Yes we refer to the Brown-tail and it's lucky there aren't a few more of him or there wouldn't be any of us. We can't avoid or dodge him. We just have to stand him as best we can. About the best way most people find is to keep a bottle of Toiletine near at hand and use it constantly to relieve the itch. It will do it and often prevents intense suffering that might otherwise go on for weeks. Toiletine can be bought at almost any drug store. It is often taken as an internal remedy for colds, coughs and throat trouble.

Anty Drudge Explains Why the Waist Went into Holes.

Mrs. Don'tno—"I must have been cheated in that woolen waist. It pulled right into holes in the washtub."
Anty Drudge—"You wouldn't think you were cheated if you got a leg of mutton which boiled that tender. It was the boiling that weakened your waist just as it makes meat or vegetables tender. Stop boiling your clothes. Wash them with Fels-Naptha in cool or lukewarm water, and they'll wear twice as long."

What are clothes made of?

Wool, cotton or linen, animal or vegetable fibre.

What does boiling or scalding do to them?

Makes them tender just as it does meat or vegetables.

What does hard rubbing on a washboard do to them?

Wears them into holes before their time.

Are you abusing your clothes like that in the weekly wash?

Burning up fuel and working like a slave to do it?

There's a far better way to get clean clothes.

Let Fels-Naptha soap take the dirt out of them in cool or lukewarm water without boiling, without hard rubbing.

It saves the clothes—makes them last twice as long.

In summer or winter, it saves fuel, time, hard work, bother and discomfort.

Directions for the Fels-Naptha way of washing are printed on the back of the red and green wrapper.

Follow them carefully.

STRIKERS ROUTED HEAVY LOSS OF LIFE CONSUL'S REPORT

Hot Fighting Between
Rioters and Police

AMSTERDAM, July 6.—There was hot fighting in the harbor district here between rioters on the one hand and the police on the other in the early hours of today. The strikers stoned the police and the troops replied with their rifles.

The striking shipping men then produced revolvers and in the fusillade that followed a number of persons were wounded. During the fighting the street lights were extinguished. The troops ultimately routed the strikers and later patrolled the streets in strong detachments.

Fishing Boats and Other
Craft Wrecked

VICTORIA, B. C., July 6.—In a heavy typhoon the steamer Sado Maru, which arrived yesterday from Japan, saved six men from an overturned junk at the entrance of Yokkachi harbor on June 19.

Heavy loss of life occurred in the storm, many fishing boats being overturned and other craft wrecked. On shore many buildings collapsed and floods occurred in some districts with loss of life. In Yokohama harbor 25 lives were lost.

ON THE KILLING OF AMERICANS BY MEXICANS

SAN DIEGO, Cal., July 6.—The steamer from Ensenada today brought the preliminary report of Consul Frederick Simpich in reference to the killing of Americans at Alamo by Mexicans. The report is a voluminous one and has been forwarded to the state department at Washington. Its contents are unknown. In addition to the four white men reported killed there were several Americans at Alamo at the time of the killing. They are thought to have made their escape. Of the four men killed one was a Canadian and another a Frenchman.

OUT go all our Spring and Summer Shoes for Men, Women and Children at a Great Sacrifice.

The reason for the big cut in prices is a logical and sensible one. We are only prudent in pushing out our present lines of Shoes before the Fall and Winter Shoes put in their appearance.

To carry stock over means not only to hamper the new styles, but it means, also, much dormant capital and loss from change of fashion. Hence our willingness to pocket any loss to effect a speedy and absolute clearance. Note the Clearance Sale prices and take advantage of this opportunity.

PRISON COMMISSION

Governor Foss Recommends That Body be Abolished

BOSTON, July 6.—Following the report yesterday by the legislature of the sixtieth message of Governor Foss, in which he scored the prison commission, it was announced at the governor's office he would make an effort to have all his messages sent in for this year by the last of the week.

The message yesterday severely criticized the office of the prison commission. It calls for a thorough revision of the present penal system and the abolishment of the commission. The governor recommends that a superintendent and two deputies be appointed who will transfer the business of the jails. He declares the young are not properly protected in the reformatory and attacks the prison contract labor system.

The message of the governor is based on the report of Frederick M. Mills, director of the prison industries of New York State, and Jos. P. Byers, secretary of the State Charities association of New Jersey. In his message the governor says:

"The report and the testimony which accompanies it prove that in our present prison system goods are being manufactured by prison labor and sold to the trade for public consumption in competition with the products of free labor."

Moreover, we have now in operation practically the old discredited prison-contract system. For example, in the shoe department of the men's reformatory an agent purchases the raw materials, utilizes prison labor and ships the finished shoes to outside customers, who make payments to him. The annual product is estimated at 150,000 pairs. The agent receives 40 per cent of the profit, the balance goes to the state. This agent makes no charge against himself for power, labor, rent, light or heat.

Conditions Practise

"Similarly at the Sherborn Reformatory for women, shirts are made and the greater part of the product is sold to the trade, though here the state itself manages the business direct and there is no contract system or agent. Yet the state sells these goods under an assumed name and thus conceals their prison origin. This is known as the 'State account' system."

"I believe this condition is grossly unfair to labor, and also to the prisoners and the state itself. It must be discontinued at once."

"While our prisoners are producing goods for sale to the public, our state institutions are buying quantities of clothing from outside sources. In other states it is now found possible to dispose of the entire product of their prison labor to the state institutions. They are not put on the market at all, and so do not come into direct and unfair competition with free labor. This is known as the 'State use' system."

"Another point calling for your attention is the reorganization of the reformatory. At the Massachusetts reformatory the investigators found young boys associating together in the shops without separation into grades. The testimony indicates a similar condition at the women's reformatory. We are spending immense sums on our reformatory and our industrial schools which are designed for reformatory effort. The first function of such reformatories is to reform young people, and it is particularly odious that the inmates are not properly classified. The investigators urge that our young offenders (both boys and girls) be protected from older and more depraved criminals."

"I urge that all further plans for extending our present reformatory system may be made to include provision for such separation, as is done in other states."

Commission Has Failed

"The investigators call for a real system of public competitive bids, under which supplies for the penal institutions shall be bought from the lowest responsible bidder, particularly as regards meat, flour, coal, etc. The testimony indicates that no satisfactory steps have been taken to abandon the existing method in this state, which deliberately favors certain sources of supply."

"The conclusion from their work is inevitably that the present prison commission has not succeeded in properly safeguarding the interests of the prisoners or of the commonwealth either in respect to free labor or the prison industries, the protection of the young offenders or the general business conduct of state institutions and properties."

THE WIRE TAX BILL

Was Rejected by the House Yesterday

BOSTON, July 6.—No one raised a cry that a quorum was not present when the house took up its routine business yesterday, and when someone called for a roll call on the poles, wires and track tax bill, there was a general impression that to do so would be unwise.

A large number of the house members strolled out in the reading room and corridor and tried to look cool. The windows were opened, but even fans presented by the sergeant-at-arms failed to entice more than a bare working number of the legislators of the lower branch from their positions near the windows and ice water tanks.

The ways and means committee, through Chairman Norman H. White, reported favorably on the resolve providing for the appointment of a special commission to investigate the cold storage plants.

Representative Montague of Boston led the fight against the bill providing that the tax upon poles, wires, rails, etc., of railroad and telephone companies should go to the cities and towns in which they are located instead of to the state, as is now the case. Messrs. Hawley of Malden, Cushing of Boston and Dean of Wakefield favored the bill. The bill was rejected by a rising vote, 58 to 43.

An order was adopted for the joint convention to elect an auditor today, and also to hold caucuses.

USED A HATPIN

WILKESBARRE, Penn., July 6.—Using a hatpin to prevent two other girls taking her sweetheart from her, Mildred Coyle was arrested and taken before Mayor Kniffen, Mary Williams and Mayor Clark, who made the charges against her. She tried to stab them with a hatpin.

Miss Coyle told the mayor with considerable spirit that the other two girls were trying to induce her sweetheart to leave her, that she wanted him for herself and the other girls made her so angry that she drew a long pin from her hat and made them run away. She was fined $3 and costs.

THE POPE'S LETTER

Applauds Lead Taken by United States in Peace Campaign

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Pope Pius X, in an autograph letter received today by the apostolic delegate to Washington, applauds the lead taken by the United States in the worldwide campaign for international peace. Although the pontiff does not mention President Taft specifically by name, a copy of the letter was forwarded tonight to the White House. It is expected the president, because of his well known peace views, will reply to the cordial sentiments of the ruler of the church. The letter follows:

"To Our Venerable Brother, Dionisio, Titular Archbishop of Larissa, Apostolic Delegate to the United States of America:

Desire for Peace.

"Venerable brother, health and apostolic benediction.

"We are happy to learn from you that in the United States of America, under the leadership of our country, the highest authority with the people, the more judicious members of the community are fervently desirous of maintaining the advantages of international peace."

"To compose differences, to restrain the outbreak of hostilities, to prevent the dangers of war, to remove even the anxieties of so-called armed peace, is indeed, most praiseworthy, and any effort in this cause, even although it may not immediately or wholly accomplish its purpose, manifests, nevertheless, a zeal which cannot but rebound to the credit of its authors and be of benefit to the state."

"This is especially true at the present day, when vast armies, instrumentalities most destructive to human life and the advanced state of military science portend wars which must be a source of fear even to the most powerful rulers."

Heartily Commends Work

"Wherefore, we most heartily commend the work already begun, which should be approved by all good men, and especially by us, holding, as we do, the supreme pontificate of the church, and representing him who is both the God and the Prince of Peace; and we most gladly lend the weight of our authority to those who are striving to realize this most beneficent purpose."

"For we do not doubt that the same distinguished men who possess so much ability and such wisdom in affairs of state will construct in behalf of a struggling age a royal road for the nations leading to peace and conciliation in accordance with the laws of justice and clarity which should be sincerely observed by all."

"For inasmuch as peace consists in order, who will vainly think that it can be established unless he strives with all the force within him that due respect be everywhere given to those virtues which are the principles of order and its firmest foundation? Service to Humanity."

"As for the remaining aspects of the matter, we recall to mind the example of so many of our illustrious predecessors who, when the condition of the times permitted, rendered in this very matter also the most signal service to the cause of humanity and to the stability of governments; but since the present age allows us to add in this cause only by pious prayers to God, we, therefore, most earnestly pray God who knows the hearts of men and inclines them as He wills, that He may be gracious to those who are furthering peace amongst the peoples, and may grant to the nations which with united purpose are laboring in this end that the destruction of war and its disasters being averted, they may at length find repose in the beauty of peace."

"As a pledge of divine favor and a proof of our benevolence we most lovingly grant you, venerable brother, the apostolic benediction."

Given at Rome at St. Peter's, the 11th day of June, 1917, and the eighth year of our pontificate.

(Signed) "PIUS X."

This letter, it is understood, was inspired by the recent jubilee at Baltimore when Cardinal Gibbons celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of his accession to the church.

On that occasion many of the speakers dwelt enthusiastically on the growth of the peace sentiment, and President Taft was among those who heartily endorsed the sentiments expressed.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING

Man Killed and Considerable Property Damage Done

SPRINGFIELD, July 6.—During the violent electric storm yesterday John Olejorek of 5 Bay street, Indian Orchard, was struck by lightning in his home and instantly killed. He was sitting on a trunk placed against the chimney when the lightning flashed down the chimney and killed him. He was 25 years of age and had been married but six months.

His body and clothing were badly burned. A brother and a small child were in the room at the time, but neither was injured.

One of the most terrific thunder storms which has been known for many years visited a portion of the Connecticut valley late yesterday. Lightning, hail and wind combined to do untold damage. Railroad lines were cut, telephone service paralyzed and roads rendered impassable by the storm. Houses were unroofed and burned and other similar damage resulted.

Holyoke suffered the greatest damage. According to the weather bureau figures there was a rainfall of 5.65 inches in that city. A bad washout on the lines of the Boston & Maine railroad just north of Holyoke, cut up traffic and the city was practically isolated as far as telephone communication was concerned for hours.

In Willsboro the old Congregational church was struck by lightning and destroyed by the resulting fire. The wind blew over innumerable trees and wrecked houses.

At Watfield an entire grove of pine trees was laid flat and houses unroofed.

There was some hail in parts of the storm district, but present reports indicate that the heaviest district of Suffolk on the south and Fairfield on the north escaped it and there will be no damage to the crop.

The wind blew a gale at Palmer and thousands of trees were uprooted. The Catholic Church of Our Lady of Hope in Springfield was struck by lightning, but was not badly damaged.

In West Springfield the noted old white church, one of the landmarks of the Connecticut valley, was also struck but the firemen were able to confine the blaze to the steeple and the structure was saved.

Chelsope had one house destroyed by fire from the lightning and another was wrecked by the wind.

FIVE MORE DROWNED

In Waters of New England Yesterday

BOSTON, July 6.—Five drownings in New England waters were reported yesterday. Of these three were boys and one was an adult male cripple. The Merrimack river claimed two of the victims, the other fatalities occurring near Providence.

With the death roll goes, however, another roll of Boston heroes. Two drownings were averted in this city by the promptness of life savers at Dorchester bay and at North End Park.

George T. Cuddihy, superintendent of the boys' department at L street baths, saved Edwin H. Neilson, a New York traveling salesman, by diving into the channel and rescuing him from the muddy bottom. Afterward Cuddihy had to work over Neilson about an hour before he could restore him.

Michael de Nutti, aged 23, of 173 Endicott street, was saved from the waters of North End Park by Life Guards John J. Burke and Dennis J. Swanson. The victim was rushed to the Relief hospital, where his life was saved.

Two of the victims lived in Lawrence. One, 9-year-old John Rosinsky, was considered one of the best swimmers among all the boys of his age in his native city. He was about 20 feet out in the Merrimack river when he was taken with cramps and sank suddenly. His body was recovered last night. The other boy was 17-year-old Gustave Schriever, who was stricken with cramps in the same river last night. His body was not recovered.

Waiting beyond his depth in the Seekonk river, 9-year-old John Hennessy of Providence was drowned. His cousin, Vincent White, about the same age, was rescued with difficulty. William Fitzgerald, aged 28, a cripple, after a few minutes' swim in Benedict Pond, Providence, sank suddenly. His body was recovered several hours later.

The drowning of an unknown man from a small boat being towed by a schooner was reported by the captain of the steamer City of Newport on her arrival at Providence from Newport. The captain said the accident occurred off Warwick light.

THE HIGHWAY BILLS

Passed by the Senate Despite Protests

BOSTON, July 6.—Lights were turned out and the windows opened and curtains withdrawn when the senate session opened yesterday for an effort to get the benefit of what little wind eddied half heartedly about the state house.

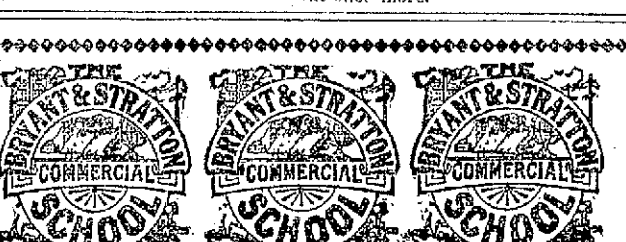

It took fifteen minutes to get a quorum. Senator Malley moved reconsideration of the vote by which the senate rejected the stock transfer bill, and the motion will be acted upon today or tomorrow.

BUSH LAND BURNED

Considerable Wood Was Consumed

Several acres of brush land near the Lowell Rendering Co.'s plant in South Lowell were burned over yesterday afternoon and but for the efforts of the North Attleboro fire company many houses would have been endangered. Luckily there was no wind or else the fire fighters would have been badly handicapped. Considerable cord wood was burned before the fire was extinguished. The blaze made rapid progress in the direction of the Elliptical Home farm, but the men employed there, assisted by the firemen, stopped the flames at that point before any damage was done. The firemen directed their efforts to the Rendering Co.'s land, where the flames were being fiercely, and after some hard work they succeeded in getting the blaze out. It broke out again last evening and the department was called out once more.

CORPORATION TAX

Has Made a Gain of $1,119,243.67

BOSTON, July 6.—Collector James D. Gill of the United States internal revenue department for Massachusetts, made public yesterday the fact that the excise tax imposed upon Massachusetts corporations doubled the amount taken in for 1916.

The total receipts for the fiscal year ending June 30 amounted to $1,841,960.75, compared to $745,717.09 for 1916. This is a gain of $1,119,243.67.

Collector Gill said there are still many corporations that have not made returns. He will send out in a few days a notice to these delinquents, giving them ten days to pay their taxes. If they do not comply with this request in the specified time they will be obliged to pay an additional 5 per cent.

The total receipts taken in for taxes on liquors, cigars, etc., for the fiscal year amounted to $7,397,001.88, compared with $5,676,103.09 for the corresponding period in 1916 a gain of $1,720,898.79.

Receipts from taxes on spirits amounted to $2,441,947.41, while $2,410,156 was collected from fermented liquors. Cigar manufacturers paid $566,705.33 into the treasury and $10,135.86 was taken in for the tax on butter and oleomargarine.

The collector received $4760.59 for miscellaneous taxes and $1204.85 for penalties imposed upon persons violating the internal revenue laws.

Need Not Pay for Work

BOSTON, July 6.—The full bench of the supreme court overruled yesterday the exceptions of Evans, Almiral & Co. of New York in their suit for $12,000 against Middlesex county for labor and materials furnished for an electric power and heating plant at the Cambridge house of correction.

"Although the case appears to be one of great apparent hardship to the plaintiffs, the governing rules of law make no other result possible upon these exceptions," the court says.

The trouble arose over the furnishing of sectional covering air ducts under the specifications. The architect, who by the terms of the contract was made the arbitrator to determine practical questions of performance in the construction, decided what the plaintiffs had furnished was not what the contract called for. On their refusal to substitute what he claimed was required, which was made by a particular manufacturer, he terminated the contract.

The auditor who tried the case found that the contractors furnished what the contract required. He found for the plaintiff, but on a retrial in the superior court Judge Hardy found in favor of the county.

The court now sets forth as good law the principle that so long as the architect acted honestly and with reasonable efficiency his action was binding upon the parties.

INFANT MORTALITY REVISION OF TARIFF

Is on the Increase All Over Now Seems to Dominate the New England Situation in Congress

BOSTON, July 6.—Although Weather Forecaster Smith promised cooling showers for tonight and Friday to break the hot wave, this section of New England today again began to wilt under a death-dealing temperature and a high humidity. The blistering sun again shone down from a clear sky. Two deaths about Boston were early added to the already amazing total. Prostrations were numerous on the streets and in workshops and offices. The infant mortality continued to be appalling. People in the crowded tenements were getting frantic. For five consecutive days now they have been tormented by this heat scourge. The official temperature today was 83 degrees at 9 o'clock and 91 at 10 o'clock almost an identical register to the terrible heat of the Fourth of July, the hottest day that New England ever had. Shortly after 10 o'clock, however, the mercury began to fluctuate, rising to 84 degrees and then dropping back to 82.

The heat spell has resulted in a scarcity of manufactured ice. Several companies delivering ice today did not send their teams from the barns. The milk supply about Boston is also low, a condition brought about by the large consumption of this product. Concord, N. H., Northfield, Vt., and this city were the hottest spots in the United States this morning, according to reports received from all over the country. Forecaster Smith said that throughout the west temperatures are much cooler. This area of lower temperatures is slowly moving eastward, he said. He expects the local temperature to drop into the 70's late tonight or Friday. Eastport, Me., was the coldest place in New England today. The thermometer in the weather section there recorded 58. In Boston today the wind was southwest with a velocity of slightly over 10 miles an hour.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—All the political signs now point to the tariff being a subject of practically endless discussion between now and the election of the next president, and probably well on into the next administration. When President Taft called congress in special session to consider the reciprocity agreement he opened the door wide to consideration of every phase of the tariff question. Only the action of the president the tariff has been tossed in many months before it would otherwise have come before them—that is, in the regular session beginning next winter. Like the man who got hold of the tail of the bear and wasn't a bit to let loose, it looks now as if congress will not be able to let loose of the tariff.

So long as there is serious complaint over the high cost of living the tariff is not easy to shove aside, especially when the democrats have before their mind the recollection of how easily they won the last campaign, much of their success being due to constant hammering on the high cost of living. Even if the insurgents and democrats get together and pass at this extra session two or three important bills and the president should sign them, as he is not expected to, there will still remain important schedules to be revised. The republican national convention will have to consider carefully what sort of a plank shall be adopted on the tariff. Most republicans will be able to agree on making difference in production cost the measure of the duty. "The old provision, 'plus a reasonable profit' for the producer, is little swallowed among tariff revision republicans in congress. They want right to get rid of any such provision. But the insurgents and revisionists generally are going to stick to the principle of difference in production cost and adhere to the notion of a tariff based on commission. The democratic convention fight, so far as tariff goes, will center around the question of tariff on raw materials, with Bryan leading for free raw materials and Bailey leading in the other direction. How far the republican enemies of reciprocity with Canada are going to try to get the next national convention to repudiate it is not clear. But there is no sign they can get anywhere with it. Next winter submission of the tariff board report on wool means consideration of that schedule. If the wool duties have not been overhauled thoroughly meantime.

INJURIES ARE FATAL

Little Boy Struck on the Head by a Sky Rocket

Other Cote, aged 7 years, 7 months, and 23 days, died last night at the Lowell hospital from injuries received Tuesday evening while attending the fireworks display in West Centralville.

The accident happened a little after 8 o'clock when a number of rockets were accidentally fired off into the crowd. It is said that the cause of the accident is known by only one man and that he is Pierre Wm. F. Egan, but the latter when seen by a representative of The Sun last night, refused to make any statement.

However, the rockets flew into the crowd and injured several people. Cote was struck on the head and received a bad scalp wound. The ambulance was summoned and the injured boy was removed to the Lowell hospital, where it was at first thought that the wound was not of a serious nature, but complications set in and the boy passed away at 6:30 o'clock last night. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cote of 653 Lakeview avenue, and two brothers, Henri and Paul and three sisters, Amanda, Yvonne and Alice.

The body was removed to the funeral parlors of Undertaker Amelie Archambault and later to the home of the bereaved parents.

The Cote family was certainly afflicted in this accident, for two other children were injured. Henri, aged 3 years and Amanda, aged 13 years. The little boy was badly burned about the eyes and face, and the attending physicians at the Lowell hospital where he is being treated fear he may lose one eye. The little girl was burned about the face and left arm. She is also being treated at the Lowell hospital.

Mrs. Benjamin Ramsay, aged about 50 years, and residing at 20 Exeter street, is another victim of the accident. The woman said she was standing near the ropes in West Sixth street when the accident occurred and that she was struck on the head with something, the nature of which she does not know. She has a deep gash on the top of the head and her eyes are badly swollen, while she is also suffering from burns in the face.

Mary Bailey, aged 9 years, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallingford Bailey of 12 Exeter street also received severe burns on her throat and chest. She was attended by Dr. Swain.

There are a number of others who received minor bruises or burns, but their names could not be learned. Police Lieutenant Freeman was in the West Centralville district last night taking names of witnesses of the accident and an investigation will be held by the police in a near future.

AGED WOMAN WINS

In Alienation Suit for $50,000 Damages

A finding for the defendant was handed down by Judge Bell at East Cambridge yesterday in the $50,000 alienation suit brought by Mrs. Emma F. Heath of Malden against Mrs. Sarah H. Merriam, also of that city, which was tried last February at East Cambridge. The plaintiff alleged alienation of the affections of her husband, Nathaniel Heath, on the part of Mrs. Merriam, who is 72 years old and a wealthy real estate owner.

The case was originally heard in May, 1930, by a jury which disagreed after listening to the evidence for four days. The second hearing opened Feb. 6 and closed Feb. 15. Mrs. Heath alleged frequent visits by her husband to Mrs. Merriam's hotel, the Evelyn, in Malden, and also alleged affectionate scenes between the two.

Mrs. Merriam denied the allegations. Robert W. Mason appeared for the plaintiff and Charles F. Choate, Jr., for the defendant.

MRS. LEVISON HOME

Wealthy Woman Disappeared Last Friday

NEW YORK, July 6.—Mrs. Della C. Levison, wife of Benno Levison, Jr., who disappeared Friday from her home, 22 West 58th street, was strangely returned to her family yesterday afternoon. She is now resting under the care of a physician.

While members of her family do not know, and perhaps never will know, what befell her in the four days of her absence, they are satisfied that she was a victim of heat prostration. On Tuesday afternoon the door bell rang and Louis Levison answering it, found standing in the vestibule a tall, handsome woman, with iron gray hair. She was stately in manner and plainly a person of distinction.

"I found a woman wandering about apparently affected by the heat and she is in my car now. Will you see if that is Mrs. Levison?" She pointed to the curb where a car was standing. Young Levison looked in and there was his mother sitting, looking worn and tired, but quite herself. The mother was led up the steps of her home, supported by her son. In the hallway, there was nothing but the broken expression of relieved tension, many kisses and a few tears.

Then the son turned to pour his thanks upon the woman who had brought his mother home. She was not in the hallway and when he hurried to the front steps, he saw that she had gone, car and all. Fresh tire tracks on the hot asphalt were the only evidence that the car had been there at all.

Meanwhile the mother was taken to her room and the doctor summoned. The doctor said that the heat had affected her, but she did not seem permanently the worse for it. Mrs. Levison had a sunstroke at the time of the Chicago World's fair and every year since the first hot days of summer have made her depressed and nervous. When Louis Levison tried to think afterwards of all that had been said by the woman who brought his mother home, he realized that she had not told enough to give any idea where Mrs. Levison had been or what she had been doing. The family does not know when the Good Samaritan found the wandering woman or where.

FUNERALS

GAGE—The funeral of James U. Gage took place from his residence, 142 Riverside street, Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Services were conducted by Rev. H. A. Whitcomb. The bearers were Messrs. C. F. Varunum, C. W. Morey, Arthur Conant and Albert Burham. Burial was in the family lot in the Lowell cemetery. J. B. Corcoran Co. in charge.

CLARK—Funeral services for the late John Henry Clark, who died on Friday, June 20th, were held at his home in New Boston, N. H., Sunday afternoon, July 2.

Rev. Louis W. Swanson, pastor of the Presbyterian church and Rev. Olin Clark Jones, a former pastor, now of Youngstown, Ohio, officiated. Each speaker a tender tribute of love and respect to him who had been to them a valued friend and counsellor.

Music was furnished by a quintet of young men with whom Mr. Clark had been closely associated. A favorite song, "After," was feelingly sung by Mr. Dexter B. Greene. Miss Mildred C. Warren, a relative and friend of the deceased, presided at the organ, playing Mr. Clark's favorite hymns in a most tender and loving manner.

The crowded rooms and beautiful flowers testified to the universal esteem in which Mr. Clark was held. On Monday afternoon when his body was laid at rest in Riverside cemetery, North Chelmsford, a large number of friends from Boston, Lowell and his home town, gathered to pay their last tribute of respect to one of God's noblemen.

The bearers were Messrs. J. U. and R. W. McLane, Allen P. Wilson of New Boston and Mr. Joseph M. Robinson of Malden, Mass.

MORETIZO—The funeral of Solomon Moretizo, who was drowned in the Concord river, Tuesday afternoon, was held from the rooms of Undertaker O'Connell at 10 a. m. yesterday. The services were conducted by Rev. Charles T. Hillings. The bearers were Olie O'Connell, M. Solomon, F. Axenti, S. Siamban, H. Muller and M. Mehuist. Burial was in the Edison cemetery.

DOOR—The funeral of Hannah J. Door took place yesterday afternoon at 2 p. m. from her residence, 215 West London street. The services were conducted by the Rev. N. W. Matthews. The bearers were all relatives. Burial was in the Edison cemetery. Undertaker Young had charge.

SALMON—The funeral of Mrs. Mary E. Salmon took place Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the home of her son, Mr. Arthur F. Salmon, 287 Stevens street. The services were conducted by the Rev. Charles T. Hillings, pastor of the First Unitarian church, assisted by the Rev. Ransom A. Greene, D. D. of Essex, Somerville, Mass. Appropriate selections were sung by Mrs. A. E. Duncan and Mrs. H. R. Hanson. The bearers were Frank K. Stearns, Royal W. Gates, Edward J. Noyes and Orrin F. Osgood. Burial was in the family lot in the Lowell cemetery. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Mr. Walter Coburn under the direction of Undertaker G. W. Henley.

O'BRIEN—The funeral of Charles E. O'Brien, beloved of Jeremiah and O'Brien, took place yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the home of his parents, Polard street, North Billerica and was largely attended. Services were held at the home, the Rev. Fr. Cornell of St. Andrew's church, North Billerica officiating. Among the floral tributes was a large pillow inscribed "Our Baby," from the family. The burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery in charge of Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

MOLLOY—The funeral of James Molloy took place yesterday afternoon from the home of his parents, James and Catherine Molloy, 1 year of 10 Albion street. Burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery. Undertaker P. H. Savage had charge.

DUFFY—The funeral of the late Nicholas J. Duffy took place yesterday afternoon from the funeral parlors of C. H. Molloy & Sons and was largely attended. There was a delegation present from the Highland Veritas lodge, 6. I. O. O. F., consisting of Messrs. C. A. Upton, E. P. Sanborn, P. H. Colburn and T. M. Perkins. Services were conducted at the funeral parlors and at the grave by Highland lodge. Among the flowers were: Large wreath from Dr. Duffy, sent by the family; spray with inscription on ribbon, from Mrs. Katherine Martin; daughter; sheaf of wheat from Miss Duffy; standing cross on base from the Leather Workers' union. The burial was in the Edison cemetery.

McPARTLAND—The funeral of the late Patrick McPartland took place this morning at 8:30 o'clock from his home 9 Brooks street and was very largely attended. The cortege proceeded to St. Patrick's church where at 9 o'clock a mass of requiem was sung by the Rev. John McHugh, the choir under the direction of Mr. Michael J. Johnson sang the Gregorian mass, the solos being sustained by Miss Alice E. Murphy and Mr. Andrew McCarthy, Mr. Johnson presiding at the organ. There were many beautiful floral tributes. The bearers were James Bourke, James J. Bourke, John J. Brady, Thomas Moran, James McKeenan, Thomas McDermott, Thomas Brady and John Clancy. At the grave the Rev. John McHugh read the committal prayers and the burial was in day they have been on the jump since early morning.

St. Patrick's cemetery in charge of Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

Continued

Babies Are Dying

Babies are dying all over the city and the district physicians are working night and day. Every place they go they endeavor to get families to seek the open air, especially the women and children. On account of the scarcity of milk and so much sour milk the babies are going hungry. The demand upon the dispensary at city hall yesterday was a record breaker and it looks as if it would be increased today.

Prostrations at Chelmsford

Mrs. Susan Smith of Bridge street and Mrs. Mary Johnson of Billerica street, Chelmsford centre, were both prostrated by the heat on Tuesday. They are resting comfortably today.

While at work in a hay field at Chelmsford yesterday afternoon Leonard Wright was prostrated by the heat. He was removed in an unconscious condition to his home where he regained consciousness.

Two More Victims

Michael McGowan of 128 Colburn street died this morning at his home from the effects of the heat. His death was soon followed by that of Michael Lanigan of 142 of the same street. The two men were feeling all right last night, but today they could not stand the intense heat and they both succumbed suddenly. The two bodies were removed to the funeral parlors of Undertaker Molloy.

Heat Kills One

There were three deaths at the Chelmsford street hospital this morning, one being due to heat prostration and the other two indirectly to the heat.

Edward F. Egan, aged about 54 years, was sent to the police station yesterday in what appeared to be a state of imbecility, but an examination showed that the man was suffering from the heat and he was immediately removed in the ambulance to the hospital, where he died this morning.

Allegiance McManus, aged 65 years, who was suffering from paralysis, has been failing rapidly during the past few hot days and passed away this morning.

A man named Walsh was seized with a shock the day before yesterday and sent to the hospital and died this morning.

Found Dead in Bed

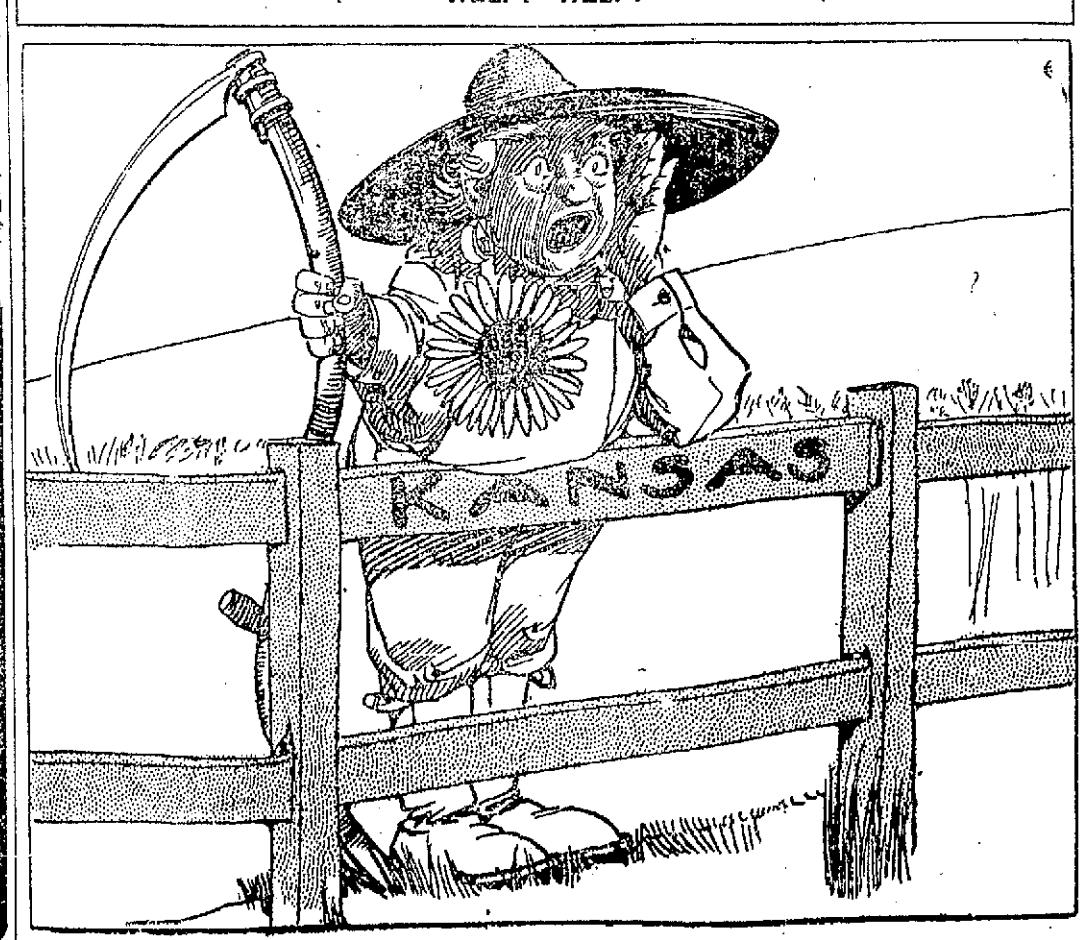

Arthur W. Harris, aged about 63 years, was found dead in bed at the residence of James Cryan at 13 Myrtle street, where he boarded, about 8 o'clock this morning. Death was due to the excessive heat.

Harris was apparently in the best of health last night when he retired and occupants of the house heard the man in the bath room about 2 o'clock this morning. When Harris did not put in an appearance about 8 o'clock this morning Mr. Cryan thought that something must be wrong and going to the man's room found him dead. A physician was called, Mr. Cryan feeling that there might be some life left and that Harris could be resuscitated, but the doctor said the man had been dead for several hours, death having been due to heat prostration.

The police were notified and the body was removed to the funeral parlors of Deach in No. Billerica.

James A. Elwood, the well known grocer of North Billerica, died suddenly last night as a result of the heat.

in Little Canada, Davidson and Howe streets and in the vicinity of Central and North streets.

Several members of each company were detached to assist in the work.

The sunbaked houses and sweltering occupants welcomed the firemen and while the majority of the men and women remained indoors or at a distance from the water, the children had the time of their lives, for they ran through the streams, paddled in the water and enjoyed it immensely.

In some of the houses the wetting down caused the temperature to drop from 15 to 20 degrees.

Prostration at City Hall

A Mrs. Scannell, while in the board of charities office at city hall, at 11 o'clock this morning, was overcome by the heat and she was removed in the ambulance to the Chelmsford street hospital.

Patrick Royal of Broadway who was overcome by the heat yesterday in Broadway and removed to St. John's hospital where he received treatment and was afterwards released was prostrated again this morning. He was removed in the ambulance to the Lowell hospital.

Two More Deaths

George Fleurie, aged 4 months and 15 days, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Narcisse Fleurie, of 119 Ford street, and Armand Lavoie, aged 7 months, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Emile Lavoie, passed away this morning from the effects of the heat. The latter is the second death in the same house since yesterday, little Alfreda Desrochers, also of 5 Ward street, having been buried this afternoon.

Thermometer Goes to 104

At 8 o'clock a number of policemen on the late shift reported simultaneously from different parts of the city that the temperature this morning was five degrees higher than at the same time yesterday. Shortly before noon today the thermometer registered 104 in the shade at several places throughout the city, while in the sun it went nearly to 140. All the small house thermometers that registered only to 120, which were left in the sun, went to smash.

The country towns around Lowell report as hot and in some cases hotter weather than we are getting in the city.

More Prostrations

At 7:30 o'clock this morning the ambulance was called to 26 West Sixth street where a woman named Mrs. Cole had been overcome by the heat. She was taken to the Lowell hospital.

Ellen Keegan of Market street was overcome at nine o'clock this morning and removed in the ambulance to the Chelmsford street hospital.

At 9:30 o'clock the ambulance was called to 53 Salem street to remove Arthur Leroux to the Lowell hospital. He had been prostrated by the heat.

The ambulance was called to 60 Race street at 10:15 o'clock this morning to take John Kelly, who was suffering from the heat, to the Lowell hospital.

Margaret McQueen, 45 years of age, died suddenly this morning at her home 465 Lawrence street. It is believed that her death was due to the excessive heat.

Deaths and Prostrations

Deaths occurring late yesterday afternoon and last night and for which the heat was responsible were as follows: William Mooney, James Elmer, Arthur J. Duggins, Mrs. Nellie Hartley and Michael Welch.

Prostrations occurring late yesterday afternoon and last night were as follows:

Mary Perten, Frank Noel, John Clancy, Patrick Royal.

DEATHS

O'BRIEN—Catherine Cecilia O'Brien, aged 2 months and 14 days, died today at the home of her parents, Thomas and Angelina O'Brien, 482 Moody street.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY

DEBUT OF JOHN PAUL JONES

JULY 6.—John Paul Jones made his debut on the stage of the living July 6, 1747. He was a Scotchman, also a sailor, who made a number of trips to Virginia as an apprentice of a shipping merchant who had sent him to America at the age of 17. The merchant went broke and John Paul went to America. When the Revolution broke out Jones was living in poverty at Fredericksburg, Virginia, and he offered Congress his services for the navy then forming. Congress listened to the plans of the young Scotchman and he was placed on the committee to purchase vessels. In the summer of 1779 he had frightened the English out of their wits by anti-shiping up and down their coast and capturing everything worth while. In midsummer of 1779 he was placed in command of the Bonhomme Richard and on September 23, off Flamborough Head, he fought the battle with the Scorpion, which made his name immortal. During the engagement the flag of the American ship was lost in the smoke. "This your ship struck?" asked Capt. Pearson of the Scorpion. "I haven't begun to fight yet," said Jones as the hand grenades of his crew set the Scorpion on fire. This made the contest too hot for the English captain, so he surrendered his sword to Jones and asked him to please call the fire department.

JOSEPH'S AIM POOR

Man Escaped a Shower of Bullets

LEOMINSTER, July 6.—Late yesterday afternoon John Joseph, 45 years of age, of Union street fired five shots. It is alleged, at Giovanni Rogerio, 24, but his aim was poor. It is said, and both men were taken into custody, the former on a charge of carrying a loaded weapon without a permit and the latter on a charge of assault.

Rogerio, who is unmarried, visited the Joseph house to see Mrs. Joseph, the police say, and was warned away by the husband, who caused Rogerio to be sent to jail a year ago, the sentence expiring recently.

When Rogerio called yesterday afternoon Joseph ejected him from the yard. It is alleged, and then returned to the piazza. No sooner had he done so, he told the police, than Rogerio, at a distance of 25 feet, whipped out a revolver, but before he could get it into action Joseph got the drop upon him and it was all Rogerio could do, it is claimed, to escape the fusillade of bullets sent in his direction by the irate husband.

Word was 'phoned to patrolman Michael T. Conlon, who made the arrest.

A BRUSH FIRE

A telephone alarm at 3:08 o'clock yesterday afternoon was for a brush fire in the West Meadow road on land belonging to E. B. Pierce.

At 5:16 o'clock a portion of the department was called to the dump in East Merrimack street where there was a lively blaze in progress.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. George E. Burns and Mrs. Estelle A. Coburn, both well known Lowell people, were united in marriage by the Rev. Arthur Cye, at Nashua, N. H., Monday evening. Mr. William Harvey of Lowell was best man and his wife, Mrs. Wm. Harvey was bridesmaid. The party left Lowell in an automobile and returned the same way. The bride was becomingly attired in blue silk and carried a large bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid wore pink silk and carried a large bouquet of lilies of the valley. After a short wedding tour the happy couple will spend the next two months at Mr. Burns' summer villa at Waldoboro, Maine, returning to Lowell in September.

SWANTON—JACKSON

Mr. Anton W. Swanton and Annie M. Jackson, both of Billerica, were united in marriage Monday by Rev. N. W. Matthews at the parsonage in Ellsworth street.

NICKLES—BRYANT

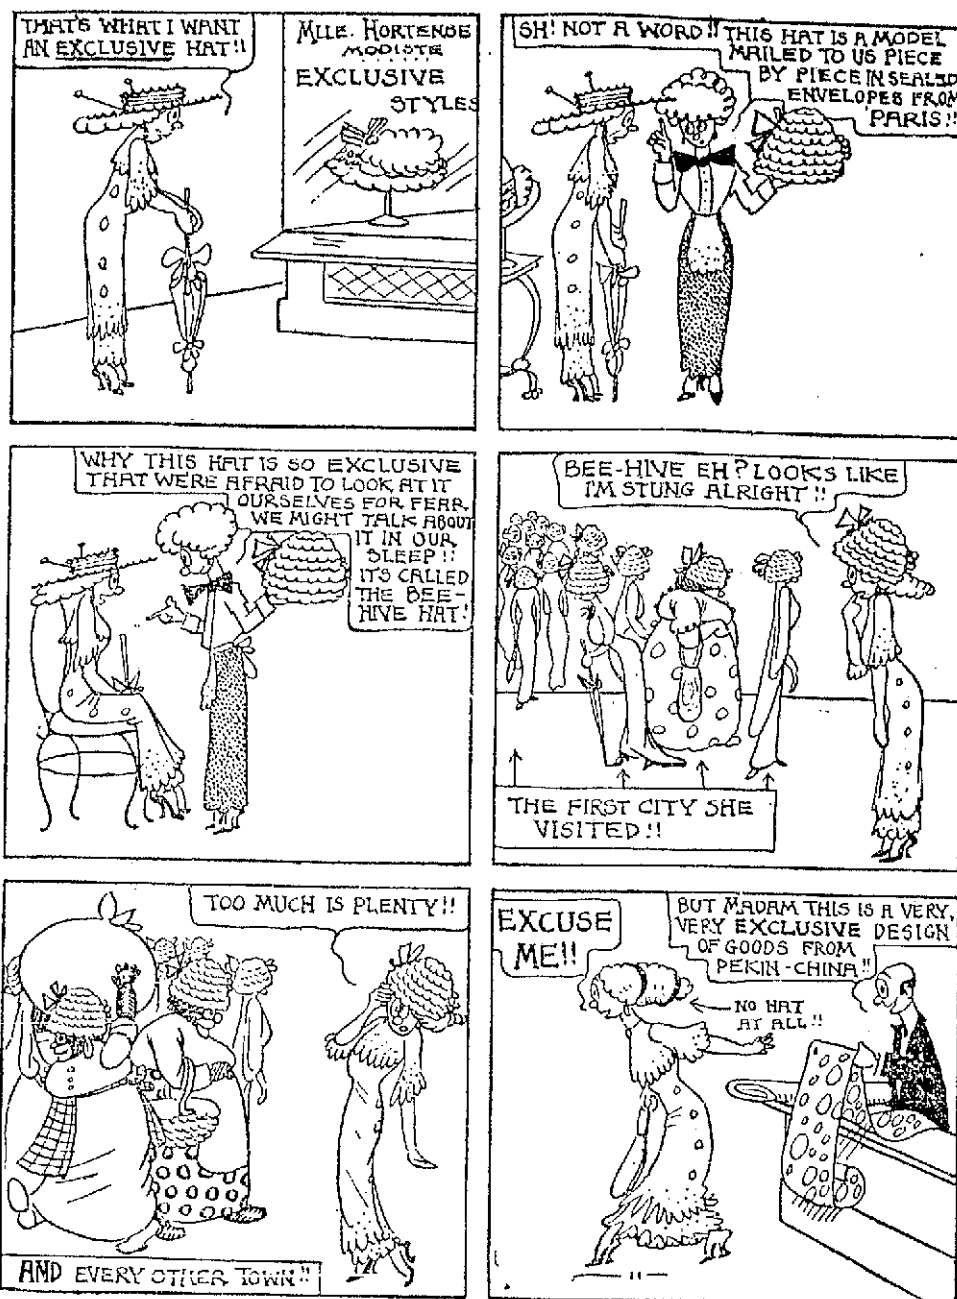

The marriage of William C. Nickles, of this city, and Miss Maude Elsie Bryant, occurred on June 29 at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hiram G. Bryant, 31 County street, Peabody. Rev. John R. Clarke, Ph. D., pastor of the Methodist church, performed the ceremony. The bride was assisted by her sister, Louise, as bridesmaid, and John William Corney was best man. The ushers were Miss Mildred Hayman, Miss Mildred Court and Miss Anna Preston, and the gift room was in charge of Miss Malvina Tucker. The wedding march was played by Miss Marion Newhall. The bride presented a charming appearance in white chiffon over merrilline, and her veil was caught up with lilies of the valley. She carried a beautiful bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid wore yellow silk with all-over lace, and carried red roses. The ceremony was the double ring service. Later the happy couple were assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Hiram G. Bryant and Mr. and Mrs. William C. Nickles in receiving their many friends. The house was very prettily decorated in pink and white, with an abundance of roses. Many out of town friends were present from Lowell, Chelsea, Boston, Lynn, Salem, Chelmsford, Carlisle and Billerica. Many beautiful presents were received by Mr. and Mrs. Nickles. Later the bride and bridesmaid left town for a bridal tour to the White mountains, and on their return they will reside at 31 County street, Peabody.

ARE DOING EXCELLENT WORK IN AVIATION STUDY

WASHINGTON, July 4.—The army engineers engaged in the study of aviation at College Park, Md., near this city, are daily showing excellent results. The altitude record for the grounds has been achieved by Lieut. Arnold. Almost every day, however, progress is shown and his mark of 2000 feet may be beaten soon. Lieut. Milling, speeding before a stiff wind, made 70 miles an hour at the 2000 foot level. When he landed it was within 12 feet of his starting point.

WATER FROM CANALS

Can be Used to Flush Streets and Wet Down Tenement Houses

Supt. Thomas of the water department has offered a public subscription for the laying of the city's streets. Because of the burning off of the supply of driven well water and our dependence practically on a water canal, the water board instructs Mr. Thomas to confer with the mayor and the board of fire department and let them get the price of water down the streets from the hydrants would come to a minimum. The board hopes that it is better to have present conditions than to take chances on a water famine.

The filling of the streets and the wetting down of tenements have a great effect especially in the congested districts and Mr. Thomas suggests that the fire department might reinforce it and take the water from the canals. In this way, he thinks, most of the congested districts can be cooled.

Mayor Meahan conferred with the officials of the Lehigh & Norfolk Co. this morning relative to using canal water on the streets, and as a result the mayor announced this afternoon that the company had granted a concession to draw water from the canals.

TO RENEW THE FIGHT

Against the Great Coal Carrying Railroads

WASHINGTON, July 6.—The presentment will renew the fight to discontinue the great coal carrying railroads from their virtual control of lines and thus vitiate the competitive claims of the interstate commerce law. A last case against the Lehigh Valley railroad will be filed today by the United States court at Philadelphia.

CORRAGE HOUSE AND BARN TO BE OPENED UPON HAMPSHIRE STREET FOR THE CITY OF NEW YORK

O'SULLIVAN ELECTED

Deadlock Over Choice of Principal Assessor Broken at Last

Jeremiah J. O'Sullivan, Esq., was elected principal assessor by the board of aldermen at their regular meeting held last night. Mr. O'Sullivan was elected on the first ballot, seven of the nine aldermen voting for him. Two of the aldermen, Messrs. Connors and Flanagan, voted for Dr. James J. McCarthy. The common council elected Mr. O'Sullivan a week ago and now that he has been elected in concurrence he will take office at once. He will take the place of Solomon S. Mayberry who has been a holdover since the first of the year. The new assessor is the son of James O'Sullivan of O'Sullivan Bros. Co.

JEREMIAH SULLIVAN
Principal Assessor

Technology and on the advice of his physician he took a rest for a year and then entered the Boston university law school from which he graduated with high honors. He has been practicing law with an office in Wyman's Exchange. It is understood he will assume the duties of his new office at once.

Dr. Welch Confirmed

Mayor Mehan's appointment of Dr. Edward J. Welch as library trustee to succeed the late Thomas Walsh, was confirmed unanimously.

Last night's meeting of the board was a shiftheave affair and any superfluous hot air would have made matters very uncomfortable. Just for that the meeting was not as elongated as some of its predecessors. There was an attempt at speechmaking and that helped some. Acting City Messenger George Bean was right there on the job every minute and he made conditions as comfortable as the weather clerk would permit.

The meeting was called at a quarter to nine o'clock and that's pretty early for a meeting nowadays.

A hearing on petition of the Boston & Northern street railway for pole locations in Foster street was declared open by the chairman. Supt. Thomas Lee explained the situation and told why the locations were needed.

Frank Stowell was a remonstrant. He was not present but was represented by Alderman Connors. The whys of the remonstrants were not explained. The matter was referred to the committee on wires.

There were no remonstrants to the petition of the New England Telephone & Telegraph company for pole locations in Pollard street. Petition was referred.

A hearing on petition of the New England Telephone & Telegraph company for pole locations on Walnut street and in B street was held. The petition was referred to the committee on wires.

Hearing on petition of the Oblate fathers to move a building to the corner of Moody and Spalding streets was held. Petition granted.

Mr. Barrett moved that a ballot be taken for principal assessor. It was so voted and Jeremiah J. O'Sullivan was declared elected in concurrence receiving 7 of the 9 votes. Those voting for Mr. O'Sullivan were: Messrs. Barrett, Burns, Daly, Gallagher, J. John, Rountree and Toupin. Messrs. Connors and Flanagan voted for Dr. James J. McCarthy.

An order to hold primaries by precincts and for the appointment of a committee on polling places was read. Aldermen Barrett and Flanagan were appointed on the committee.

A joint order to borrow $19,000 for a new bridge over the canal in Market street and the repair of several other bridges was referred to the committee on appropriations.

The opinion of the city solicitor relative to the city's authority to build and rent conduits for underground wires was read. The solicitor said the city did not have the right to do it. The opinion was placed on file.

Several sewer resolutions were adopted as was also a resolution to lay out and accept Burton street.

A resolution to accept a sidewalk on Chelmsford street on the easterly side from Cambridge street was adopted.

The report of the committee on ordinance and legislation relative to an ordinance creating a city council fund was read, the report stating that the ordinance was correctly drawn. The report was accepted.

Exit aldermen.

THE PARLIAMENT BILL

Has Been Amended by the Lords

LONDON, July 6.—The house of lords last night by a vote of 253 to 16 passed Lord Lansdowne's amendment to the veto bill, which provides that no bill affecting the existence of the crown or Protestant succession, or the establishment of a national parliament or a body with legislative powers in any portion of the kingdom, or which, in the judgment of a joint committee of the two houses, raises an issue of great gravity, shall receive royal assent until it has been submitted to the referendum. War Secretary Haldane again made it clear that the government would refuse to accept the amendment.

An interesting feature of the debate was the intervention of the bishop of Ripon, who said that he disliked the referendum, which was advocated by Lord Lansdowne, but preferred it to the veto bill.

TWO LAWRENCE BOYS

Were Drowned in the Merrimack River

LAWRENCE, July 6.—John Boshinsky, aged 9, of 219 Valley street, was drowned in the Merrimack river near McFarlin court yesterday afternoon. The bathhouses were crowded, and he with a number of other lads went in bathing outside. He jumped from a bath box and failed to rise. The body was recovered.

Gus Schreier, aged 17 of 3 Sargent street, while seeking relief from the heat by bathing in the Merrimack river, the Essex county training school last night, was drowned. His body has not been recovered.

Announcement Extraordinary

The New York Store takes extreme pleasure and they trust pardonable pride in their ability to herewith make announcement that they have secured and shall exhibit the exact duplicate of

The Coronation Gown

Made by Worth and as worn by Queen Mary on that momentous occasion, the Coronation of the British Sovereigns

Tomorrow and Following Days

The Coronation Gown will be exhibited in our store draped on a model who will appear in addition to wearing this magnificent robe a gorgeous crown and carrying the regulation sceptre. You are cordially invited to visit us and inspect this gorgeous costume devised by that genius, Worth, of Paris.

Probably never in the history of the world has a costume of such surpassing magnificence been devised. Never has a Lowell house been able to place on exhibition a gown of such rare beauty. Intrinsic value ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS.

We are proud of our achievement in securing this great production for Lowell. Permit us to assure the Lowell ladies that it will ever be our aim to exhibit for their benefit the new ideas, the latest efforts of fashion designers that may be brought forth from time to time, as for instance, the Harem Skirt. Now the Coronation Gown.

A WATER FAMINE

Is Threatened in This City, According to Supt. Thomas

At a meeting of the water board held last night Supt. Thomas submitted a rather startling report relative to Lowell's water supply, and he says it is up to the people of Lowell to go easy on the water if they would avoid a water famine. The board instructed Supt. Thomas to confer with the superintendent of streets and chief of the police department and advise a more careful use of the city's water. The board went so far as to consider the advisability of prohibiting the watering of lawns throughout the city. The Cook well has been running longer than the state board advises that they should be run at one time, because of the peculiar action of Cook well water on lead pipes, and to shut off these wells would mean a shortage of four and a half million gallons a day. Since the hot weather set in there has been an excess consumption of 2,000,000 gallons a day and the water is falling in the reservoirs. The reading of the scale at the reservoir on July 1 was 15 feet 11 inches, and at 5 p. m. yesterday the water stood at 17 feet 1 inch.

President Van Tassel called the meeting to order at 8:25 o'clock. Fred C. Humphreys presented a claim amounting to $132 for injuries sustained while working in the boiler room pumping station. The board will pay the claim.

Mr. Joseph W. Griffin, Monahan's avenue, presented a petition to have the water main, which ends at his home, extended through to Pine street in order to get better water. The board later granted the extension, with the provision that Mr. Griffin pay the interest on the cost of said extension.

Mr. Eugene Gosselin of Henry avenue also presented a petition to have the water main extended from the house of Mr. Blanchard Pratt about 20 feet away to the house which he is now building. The board granted the petition on the condition that Mr. Gosselin pay the interest on the money expended.

THE IVERNIA

TEMPORARILY PATCHED UP SET SAIL TODAY

QUEENSTOWN, July 6.—The Cunarder Ivernia, temporarily patched up, sailed this morning for Liverpool under her own steam but escorted by tender o's and salvaged steamers. The Ivernia has been laid up since she struck near Daunt rock during a fog on May 24. She was coming in here from Tinseltown at the time. Permanent repairs will be made at Liverpool.

MAN WAS DRUGGED

Says He Was Robbed of $300

EXETER, N. H., July 6.—A stranger found Monday morning on River street believed then to be a victim of heat prostration, was yesterday discharged from the Cottage hospital and went to his home in Roxbury, Mass. He gave his name as Lewis Smith of 147 Ham-boldt avenue, Roxbury, and said he has been employed as a wood chopper at Houlton, Me.

He says he drew Saturday $354 wages for about nine months, and with Michael Ellis, his wife's cousin, started for his home.

On arrival in Exeter Ellis persuaded him to stop over that the latter might visit a friend. On the way from the station, he says, Ellis urged him to take a drink and he finally consented on assurance that it was merely wine.

After the drink he says he knew nothing until he awoke at the hospital. He says the wine was drugged.

His money had vanished and he could not find Ellis to explain the matter. The latter's address, Smith says, is unknown to him. Supt. Charles G. Gough believed Smith's story to be true and gave him a ticket to Boston.

HE DROPPED DEAD

Undertaker Was Preparing Body for Burial

HUDSON, July 6.—Undertaker Jay Henry Herlick, 52 years old, dropped dead yesterday while laying out the body of Mrs. Ella Barton Wheeler at the farm of Mrs. Abbie A. Conway, Ericham street. He was called there about 10 o'clock and was at work, assisted by Mrs. Benjamin Noyes, when he fell to the floor with a gasp, expiring immediately.

Dr. Frederick P. Glazier was summoned, and after examining the body and finding life extinct, went to the Herlick home, and notified Mrs. Herlick. Dr. John E. McGrath viewed the body and pronounced death due to indigestion, producing syncope.

GENERAL BIXBY

DESCRIBES CONDITION OF THE MAINE

WASHINGTON, July 6.—General Bixby, who declared in an interview here last night that the Maine was wrecked in Havana harbor by the explosion of her own magazines, is quoted as saying that his soundings showed that at least two-thirds of the bow was utterly wrecked. The slides had been practically blown away and were buried in the mud. This, he believed, indicated conclusively that the wreck was from internal sources.

FOR GRIMY HANDS USE CARBONOL

WHEN you do any kind of greasy work, the grease works into the pores of the skin and soap and water are powerless to remove it. Put a little Carbonol into the basin, and see what a difference it makes!

Half the dirt in the world is greasy dirt and that is why Carbonol which dissolves grease, is so useful in almost any kind of cleaning.

Use it to take away stains on clothing and carpets. Put a little in the water used in house cleaning and it will make the dirt and grime vanish like magic.

THE GRADE CROSSING PERIL

Five picnics killed by a train at a grade crossing was the heading of a news despatch in Monday's papers. That was a case of carelessness in which a party drove upon the crossing assuming without any right that the road was clear. Had they exercised the slightest caution they would at least have noticed the warning sign overhead or stopped to look whether any train was approaching. It is no excuse that the view of the approaching train was obstructed by a building. The railroad company assumes that nobody will drive across the track without looking whether the track is clear or whether to advance a step means death as was the case at Ozone park on Sunday. Grade crossings are the cause of many accidents for the reason that people forget all about them and pass on at their own peril.

THE SUMMER CAMP AS A LIFE SAVER

The sooner people get back to Nature in their habits of living the sooner will they overcome some of their present ills and most of their discomforts.

The camping out habit that is becoming so common tends in this direction and should be encouraged. Those simple little camps that we see along the Merrimack, the Concord and on the borders of lakes and ponds are the summer retreats of families who live and toil in the city, but who spend their week-ends, their evenings and their holidays here in close touch with Nature, enjoying the cool shade, the pure air and complete rest while escaping the intense heat of the city, as well as its alluring temptations.

On any public street exposed to the sun during the day the reflected heat will be fully as great as the direct heat of the sun. The pavements and the sides of the buildings get heated and send the heat radiating into the air, adding much to the temperature and to the discomfort of those who pass by. It is well for those who can escape this dangerous condition, but the poor people in the congested districts who have no camps and no escape but what they find in the public parks are really to be pitied. If the park commission considers their needs in the development of its plans, it will establish as many small parks through the city as possible and provide as much cool shade as possible in all our parks. In the very hot weather the demand is for cool shade in which those who are overcome with the heat can lie and rest night and day if need be. It is a matter of life saving in weather such as we have at present to provide this shade within easy reach, pure drinking water and a system of public baths. The absence of any opportunity for bathing drives many people to the verge of suicide. They suffer so much from the heat that they rush to rivers and lakes and plunge in, little heeding the danger they incur.

It is really a reflection upon our city government that we have no system of public baths so greatly needed by our citizens. The time has come when no factory city should be without a system of public baths. We have been talking of baths for ten years past, but apparently we are as far from having them now as we were then. Owing to the system of government we live under the people cannot get what they want.

It is at a hot weather crisis like the present that the lack of these life saving agencies such as shady parks at our doors and a system of public baths always available seems most inexcusable.

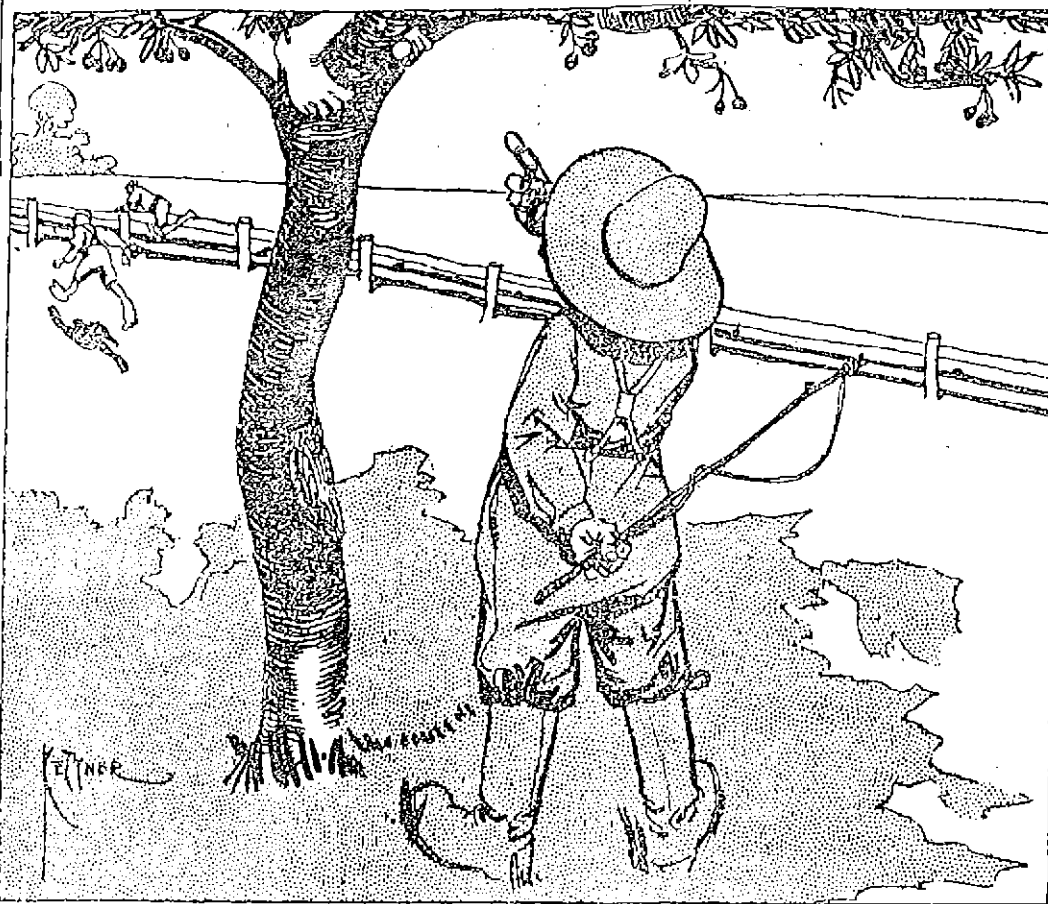

But to return to the summer camps outside the city, they undoubtedly save many lives during the course of the year. This camp life will help the babies from many ills inevitable in the city; it will ward off or help relieve them of cholera infantum and other ills brought on by the summer heat. The wealthy man can go off on a vacation to the beaches or mountains, but the poor man who has to work in order to support his family can do nothing better than establish some kind of a summer camp in the suburbs at which he can spend his week-ends and his evenings, and at which sick members of his family may be recuperated. It is not necessary that the camp be anything elaborate. The cheap shack that any handy man can build will answer the purpose until something more desirable can be procured. The child who is running barefooted on the green sward in a pine grove or under the cool shade of majestic trees is not likely to get sick as a result of the heat. Of course children are often made sick by careless feeding in hot weather, but other things being equal their chances of remaining well at a little country camp are vastly greater than if they remained in the city.

It may be remarked that the foreigners who are coming to our city of late are beginning to take up the camping-out habit. Down the river below Haverhill there are probably 500 acres occupied by camps and huts, all owned by Italians who in time will doubtless be the owners and the farmers of that district. Almost all of them work in Haverhill and take the cars between their rural habitations and the city where they work.

As soon as men get the camping habit, they begin to cultivate a little garden and thus to draw upon the soil for their support. In this way thousands of acres have been made fertile by cultivation, and a very large number of people have learned the secret of drawing upon the soil for part of the treasures it holds for those who take the trouble to find them.

Henceforth as a source of pleasure, an aid to health and especially as a protection against oppressive heat, we would advise every working man who can do so, to secure a camp in a shady retreat in the suburbs, a place to which he can take his family at little or no expense to enjoy the fine scenery, the cool shade and the invigorating ozone of the forests. Such a camp will save doctors' bills if rightly used, or in case of sickness, it may prove the most acceptable hospital. Nowhere will a child sick with cholera infantum recuperate as fast as in one of these little camps, provided it receives the food suitable to its weakened condition. Everybody who works hard the year round needs a vacation, but for those who cannot get away the next best thing, or perhaps even a better thing is the summer camp with its complete rest away from all excitement, away from the nerve-racking din and noise of city life and away also from what has well been called the "Solitude" of the city.

CHERRIES ARE RIPE

SEEN AND HEARD

MY MOTHER'S PRAYER

As I wandered 'round the homestead,
Many a dear, familiar spot
Brought within my recollection
Scenes I'd seemingly forgot.
There the orchard, meadow, yonder,
Here the fern, old-fashioned well
With its old moss-covered bucket,
Sent a thrill no tongue can tell.
The house was held by strangers,
All remained the same within,
Just as when a child I rambled
Up and down and out and in.
To the garret dark ascending,
Upon a source of childish dread,
Peering through the misty cobwebs,
I saw my trundle-bed.
Quick I drew it from the rubbish,
Covered o'er with dust so long,
When, behold, I hear in fancy
Strains of one familiar song
Often sung by my dear mother
To me, in that trundle-bed.
"Hush my dear, be still and slumber,
Holy angels guard thy bed!"

While I listen to the music
Stealing on in gentle strain,
I am carried back to childhood;
I am now a child again.
'Tis the hour of my retiring,
At the dusky eventide,
Near my trundle-bed I'm kneeling,
As of yore at mother's side.

Hands are on my head so loving,
As they were in childhood's days,
I with weary eyes am trying
To repeat the words she says.
'Tis a prayer in language simple
As a mother's lips can frame,
"Father, thou who art in heaven,
Hallowed ever be thy name."

Prayer is good to my pillow
With a good-night kiss I creep,
Sighing waking while I whisper,
Now I lay me down to sleep.
Thou my mother, o'er me bending
Prays in earnest words but mild
"Hear my prayer, O heavenly Father,
Bless, O bless my precious child!"

Yet I am but only dreaming,
Never I'll be a child again,
Many years have that dear mother
In the quiet churchyard lain.
But for blessed, blessed spirit
Daddy hovers o'er my head,
Calling me from earth to heaven,
Even from my trundle-bed.

An industrial commission appointed by congress was conducting certain investigations with reference to the operation of mills and factories in various parts of the country, and the members became especially interested in the working of one mill in a southwestern state.

The investigators were in one room when the whistle blew for noon. The operatives put on their coats and vanished as if by magic.

"All workers drop their tools the instant the whistle blows," asked one of the commission.

"No, not all," answered the man who was acting as guide. The more orderly have their tools put away before that time."

Early in the winter a man from the backwoods wandered into a Syracuse agent's furniture store. Here the shiny winter caps caught his eye.

After gazing at these for a long while, he said:

"How much do you want for one of them caps?"

"One dollar," rejoined the clerk.

"Try this one on, sir."

But this proved to be a size or so too small, sitting upon the woodchopper's head like a peanut on a barrel.

"Here's yr dollar, mister. I'll take this cap."

"But the cap's too small!" declared the amazed clerk, pushing back the proffered dollar. "Wait till you try—"

"O, I'll fix this so's it'll fit," was the backwoodsman's final exclamation, before starting off with the purchase. "When I get home all I'll have to do is to fill its back up with a knife, lace it with a shoestring, and everything'll be all hunky-dory!"—Judge's Library.

THE CARE OF HORSES

Suggestion for Treatment in Hot Weather

The Massachusetts S. P. C. A. offers the following suggestions for owners of horses to observe in caring for their animals during the hot weather:

Prevention

In very hot weather horses should have wet sponges or light shades on the head when at work, or the head may be sponged with cold water as many times a day as possible. Proper attention should be given to feeding and watering, never in excess. During the warm months all stables should be cool and ventilated as much as possible.

Treatment

First aid in cases of sunstroke: Get the horse into a cool, shady place as soon as possible, and to get the best results water should be applied against the body with some force, which can be accomplished by using a hose that will project a spray. If a hose is unobtainable, water may be poured from a bucket or wrung from a sponge applied to the head and body. The advantage obtained in adding force to the application of the water lies in the fact that the constant pelting of the drops of water has a powerful stimulating effect. Water should be applied constantly to the head. In all cases a veterinarian should be called.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

The feature photo-play at the Merrimack Square theatre for the last three days of this week is a correct picture representation of the coronation of King George V of England. This picture is said to be one of the very best produced of the largest and best motion picture manufacturers in the world and was secured only after a large expenditure of money and considerable dickering with the high officials of England. It shows in every detail the ceremonies attendant upon the crowning of England's king and queen and should prove thoroughly enjoyable to all patrons.

Mortimer Snow & Co. in that popular western drama, "2000 Reward" continues to please audiences daily, and Will Carpenter, the Lowell boy, gives an exhibition of roller skating that is the equal of anything of its kind ever shown in Lowell. Ash and Carr are high class travesty artists and Miss Margaret McDonough, in song, is scoring a big hit. The baseball results of the American, National and New England leagues are given nightly. Coolest spot in town.—Adv.

THEATRE VOYONS

Today the Theatre Voyons will present the first motion picture of the coronation festivities in England, including a most realistic portion of the procession to the actual scene of the coronation. Those who remember the excellent pictures of King Edward's funeral will not be disappointed in this series for they excel the former in clarity of photography and in many cases in the selection of the most interesting portions of the procession. Together with the coronation picture will be given a complete program, the feature of which will be "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," a picture showing how this inspiring hymn came to be written and interpreting every thought of the hymn in a manner that exceeds the best work of the foreign photographers. Every lover of his country, every lover of literature or art will approve of this picture as it ranks as a real masterpiece of the photographer's and stage manager's art.—Adv.

CRICKET NOTES

ZIONS WILL PLAY AT METHUEN SATURDAY

The Zions travel to Methuen Saturday, July 8th, to play the strong Methuen team. The Methuen team is a pretty strong team but was beaten when they played here some few weeks ago, so a good and exciting game is expected this coming Saturday. The following players have been selected to represent the Zions: J. Darrick, captain, W. Croft, Jr., R. Brewster, F. Chapman, W. Croft, Jr., R. Morland, Burroughs, Adkinson, H. Hall, A. Fiedling, E. Burt, H. Fiedling, A. Bowden 2d reserve.

All players are earnestly requested to be at the square at 1 o'clock sharp in order to leave on the 1.10 car.

If for any reason any player selected is unable to play, kindly notify the secretary or captain on or before Friday.

SEVERELY CUT

BOTTLE WHICH MILKMAN WAS CARRYING BURST

Thomas Jaig, a milkman, met with a peculiar accident yesterday morning while delivering milk. He was hurrying along with a milk can on his back, when a bottle of milk which he was carrying burst with a warning and some of the flying fragments struck him on the head, inflicting several lacerations. He went to St. John's hospital, where he received treatment and later was taken to his home at 15 Plain street.

FOUR WERE INJURED

When Machine Crashed Into a Tree

BOSTON, July 6.—Three Boston men and a visitor from North Carolina, while motoring east along Commonwealth avenue yesterday afternoon, crashed into a tree opposite the Ellis farm and were injured. The car, is owned by W. L. Cowles of 101 Newbury street, who was driving. The other occupants were G. M. Muchmore and Walter Kinnice, both of 137 Pembroke street, and J. Johnson of Wilmington, North Carolina.

The men had spent the holiday touring and were coming from Worcester, driving along Commonwealth avenue at a rate of speed when Mr. Cowles lost control of the car and went crashing into the tree, turning turtle and plunging the men beneath it.

Assistance soon arrived at the scene of the crash attracted attention and many gathered to lend a hand to the injured. In the meantime the Newton police were notified and Chief Mitchell, Sgt. Clay and Officer Maloney hurried to the scene in the chief's automobile.

Upon their arrival they rendered medical assistance and the men were taken to the Newton hospital, two in the police ambulance and two in the chief's car. Upon being examined at the hospital it was found that three of the men had received slight injuries, while Cowles had a dislocated shoulder and two broken ribs. The car was smashed beyond repair.

BURNS WERE FATAL

Young Wife Poured Kerosene on Fire

RUTLAND, Vt., July 6.—With her entire body burned and in two places quite deeply, Mrs. John Halliday, aged 19, died last night at the Rutland city hospital as the result of an accident at her home on Strong's avenue, when she poured kerosene oil on a smoldering wood fire. She was alone in the upper room.

The fire caught quickly and set ablaze a basket containing clothes. This in turn set fire to the paper on the wall.

Mrs. Halliday rushed down the back stairs screaming as she went and when she got into the yard her clothes were all ablaze. Mrs. Samuel L. Buff, a relative of Mrs. Halliday, who lives down stairs in the same house, ran to her aid. About the same time the attention of Miss Margaret Shewey who lives next door was attracted and the two women tore some clothes from a nearby clothes line and wrapping Mrs. Halliday in them rolled her on the ground.

A SPECIAL MEETING ROBBERS GOT $200

Held by Dracut Voters Key Workers Entered Last Night Middlesex St. Building

Despite the torrid weather of last night, there was a good sized attendance at the special meeting of the voters of the town of Dracut. There were but few articles to be considered but the discussion was lengthy.

The meeting was called to order about 8.30 o'clock by Town Clerk John W. Brennan, who read the warrant, after which Peter Bolton was chosen moderator without opposition.

Article 2 called for a loan of $1500 to complete the proposed addition to the Kenwood school. There was some

From the number of complaints of larcenies received at the police station of late it would appear that there are key workers in the vicinity and in several cases some good hauls have been made. It was only last week that four break-ins were made in the Rurkbank block in Prescott street, Monday morning the store of G. C. Prince & Son in Merrimack street was entered by the use of a key and now it is reported that one of the blocks in Middlesex street was entered and $250 in money stolen.

The janitor of the building stated that about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon while he was in the basement of the building and his wife was in another part of the block that some person or persons entered the building and with the aid of keys entered three rooms, including his own, where most of the money was secured.

The thieves overlooked a gold watch and chain valued at $150, and in fact, passed over everything except money. The police were notified and inspectors are out on the case, furnished with a slight description of two suspicious looking characters seen in the vicinity about that time.

SPEAKER CLARK
TO PAY A VISIT TO BOSTON NEXT MONTH

WASHINGTON, July 6.—Representative Murray of Boston yesterday got a promise from Speaker Champ Clark to visit there late in August. He asked the speaker to go to Boston and address a large gathering of Massachusetts democrats on an occasion now being organized by Joseph Maynard and the city committee. The speaker said he would probably be able to come.

At the senate yesterday Representative Murray learned that favorable reports would be made today or next day by Senators Sully and Bailey on the appropriation bill which the house passed early this session. This, if it leaves a far at this session as Representative Murray hopes is probable, may give an opportunity to the Massachusetts legislature before it adjourns to redistrict the state. Speaker Walker has already promised to appoint a committee of 16 to conduct the redistricting of the state to obtain a fair arrangement of territory between the two parties.

BODY OF BABY GIRL A MYSTERIOUS CASE

Found On Steps of An Undertaker's House

A baby girl aged about two or three days, was found this morning wrapped up in a pasteboard box on the steps of the Undertaker, Amador Archambault's house. The identity of the child is not known and may never be known.

At 6:30 o'clock this morning Mrs. Archambault went on the piazza to get her milk and there found a box bearing the name of a local florist. Thinking they were flowers, the woman took the box in the house and opened it, and there to her astonishment discovered that it contained the dead body of a baby.

CAPTURE OF RIOTERS

Car Operating Under Police Protection Was Attacked

MEXICO CITY, July 6.—A suburb-an car operating under police protection was stopped at San Juan market late last night by several hundred men and boys. The half dozen policemen on the car platform were powerless for a time the crowd contented itself with shouting and taunting the police. Then a stone crashed through one of the windows. It was followed by a bombardment. The rioters had chosen a spot within a few squares of a mounted police barracks. A squad of police soon rode into the mob. Not a shot was fired but the rioters placed their swords with telling effect. One

About the best way most people find is to keep a bottle of Toiletine near at hand and use it constantly to relieve the itch. It will do it and often prevents intense suffering that might otherwise go on for weeks. Toiletine can be bought at almost any drug store. It is often taken as an internal remedy for colds, coughs and throat trouble.

Anty Drudge Explains Why the Waist Went into Holes.

Mrs. Don'tno—"I must have been cheated in that woolen waist. It pulled right into holes in the wash tub."

Anty Drudge—"You wouldn't think you were cheated if you got a leg of mutton which boiled that tender. It was the boiling that weakened your waist just as it makes meat or vegetables tender. Stop boiling your clothes. Wash them with Fels-Naptha in cool or lukewarm water, and they'll wear twice as long."

What are clothes made of?
Wool, cotton or linen, animal or vegetable fibre.

What does boiling or scalding do to them?
Makes them tender just as it does meat or vegetables.

What does hard rubbing on a wash-board do to them?
Wears them into holes before their time.

Are you abusing your clothes like that in the weekly wash?
Burning up fuel and working like a slave to do it?

There's a far better way to get clean clothes.
Let Fels-Naptha soap take the dirt out of them in cool or lukewarm water without boiling, without hard rubbing.

It saves the clothes—makes them last twice as long.

In summer or winter, it saves fuel, time, hard work, bother and discomfort.

Directions for the Fels-Naptha way of washing are printed on the back of the red and green wrapper.

Follow them carefully.

they will receive about $1250 towards its burial. The cause of the child's death is reported by Dr. Davis as due to natural causes.

THE SILVER WEDDING

Of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Choquette Observed

Mr. and Mrs. Eliazar H. Choquette, formerly of this city and now of New Bedford observed the 25th anniversary of their marriage on July 1, the event being attended by many friends and relatives of the couple, as well as by their ten children. The affair was also a double event for their eldest son, Leon of Bismark, North Dakota, who was recently married at the latter place, was present with his wife, the couple being on their wedding tour. The latter will come to Lowell the latter part of the week, to visit their many relatives.

The festivities opened with a high mass in the French Catholic church of New Bedford, the officiating clergyman being a brother of Mr. Choquette, the Rev. Victor Choquette of Brockton. There was beautiful singing during the mass by the regular church choir and after the service, the party repaired to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Choquette, 162 St. Francis street, where a dainty dinner was served. The entire day as well as the evening was spent in a cheerful manner, and the hosts of the occasion were the recipients of many costly gifts.

Eliazar H. Choquette and Annie Richards were married in this city July 4, 1886, the ceremony being performed at St. Joseph's church by the Rev. Fr. Pelletier, O. M. I., now of Pittsburg, N. Y. Ten children, three boys and seven girls were born to them, the oldest one, Leon, being superintendent of a land company at Bismark, N. D., while the second oldest, Ferdinand, is interested in his father's business at New Bedford.

Mr. Choquette who is favorably known in this city, was formerly proprietor of the Lowell One Price Clothing Co., now the Everett's Apparel Shop and also a charity commissioner. Two years ago the family removed to New Bedford, where Mr. Choquette opened up a clothing store known as "Choquette's Apparel Shop."

Among the many guests present at the silver wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Auguste Richards of this city, the former a brother of Mrs. Choquette.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 6.—Ad- vices received by Seattle banks from their correspondents at Fairbanks, Alaska, say that the season's gold output of the Tanana district will be at least $5,000,000 and may reach $6,000,000, exceeding by $1,500,000 the estimate made two months ago.

WOUNDED IN LEG
YOUNG MAN STEPPED BEFORE HIS FRIEND'S REVOLVER

NASHUA, July 6.—Nakim Kim, a young resident of Lynn, who is pursuing his vacation at Mrs. Jane Guston's in Londonderry, was brought to St. Joseph's hospital yesterday morning with the bones of his right leg below the knee shattered by a bullet.

Victor Brown, another Yankee and Kim were taking a drive, and while with a revolver and Brown fired two or three shots at a track when Kim, thinking his companion had fired, stepped directly in front of him just as he pulled the trigger.

Brown dropped the muzzle of the weapon, but not low enough. Dr. William E. Reed says the injury is a serious one.

CONSUL'S REPORT
ON THE KILLING OF AMERICANS BY MEXICANS

SAN DIEGO, Cal., July 6.—The steamer from Ensenada today brought the preliminary report of Consul Frederick Simplich in reference to the killing of Americans at Alamo by Mexicans. The report is a voluminous one and has been forwarded to the state department at Washington. Its contents are unknown. In addition to the four white men reported killed there were several Americans at Alamo at the time of the killing. They are thought to have made their escape. Of the four men killed one was a Canadian and another a Frenchman.
